PRESIDENT WILL NOT INTERFERE

WILL NOT CONCERN HIMSELF PERSONALLY IN STRIKE.

MR. NEILL HAS POWER TO ACT

APPEALS TO ROOSEVELT REFERRED TO COMMISSION.

OPERATORS STILL STAND PAT

Situation Is Practically Unchanged. Little Progress Has Been Made at Chicago Toward Settlement of Trouble—Several A. P. Circuits Open.

OYSTER BAY, N. Y., Aug. 14.—President Roosevelt will not concern himself personally with the telegraphers' strike, according to the best information obtainable here tonight.

Appeals to the president to take some action looking to a settlement of the strike were received at the executive office here today from boards of trade and commercial bodies of a large number of cities. The applications were similar in character to those formulated yesterday by the Chicago Board of Trade. Each emphasized the importance of direct action by the president.

The communications have been referred to Commissioner of Labor Charles P. Neill. It is understood that no instruction or recommendations have been forwarded to Mr. Neill. From the first Mr. Neill has been active in an effort to effect a settlement of the strike. It is stated here that he has not made no report to the president nor has he received messages from Mr. Roosevelt touching upon the matter in hand.

Movement Closely Followed.

Mr. Neill's movements, however, have been closely followed, and while the direct statement is not made, the impression is given that in Mr. Neill's effort the administration considers that the limit of its functions and authority in the matter is being exercised.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Aug. 14.—The board of trade this afternoon ordered the following message sent to President Roosevelt at Oyster Bay:

"The deadlock between the telegraphers and their employes is a national calamity demanding an immediate settlement of the differences at issue in this emergency. We most respectfully urge you to use your best endeavors to bring about a settlement.

(Signed) "THOMAS J. BROADNAX, President."

$1,000,000 Reserve Fund?

Cal E. Ryle, chairman of the grievance committee of the local union of the commercial telegraphers union, declared yesterday that the Order of Railway Telegraphers had tendered to the commercial men now on strike their $1,000,000 reserve fund.

The official record of the proceedings of the biennial session of the railroad telegraphers, held at Minneapolis, May last, however, shows that according to the report of L. W. Quick, grand secretary-treasurer of the Order of Railway Telegraphers, has no such fund available to aid an allied union. As a matter of fact, the report of Secretary-Treasurer Quick shows that the protective fund on March 31, 1907, showed a balance on hand of only $62,404.37.

The report of Mr. Quick did show that his order had a total of $159,388.24 on hand March 31, 1907, in the general fund of the order, but this would not appear to be available for use in aiding allied unions.

The members of the Order of Railway Telegraphers cannot be assessed without a referendum vote, a majority of the members voting for the assessment. To take a referendum vote of 36,000 members would be a big task and would consume several weeks time.

A. P. Circuits Restored.

CHICAGO, Aug. 14.—All the Associated Press circuits radiating from Chicago to the east, north, south and west, were restored, to a normal working basis this morning.

The eastern circuit was fully manned yesterday, two wires working throughout the day and night.

The north circuit to Milwaukee, Minneapolis and Duluth was fully manned and went forward with the regular quota of report.

The southern circuit to Indianapolis, Cincinnati, Columbus, and Louisville was recovered with only the city of Dayton missing when the wires were opened.

The western circuit was today opened for the first time to St. Louis, Kansas City, St. Joseph and Omaha, and was extended to Denver, Colorado Springs and Pueblo at 9:35 this morning.

CHICAGO, Aug. 14.—Pending arrival of President Small, but little progress is being made today in efforts to secure a settlement of the telegraphers' strike.

The companies adhered to their determination not to receive any deputations from the strikers or to discuss anything in arbitration.

Both the Western Union and Postal managers asserted that they were in better condition than at any time since the strike began.

Drastic measures to prevent violence in connection with the strike have been taken by Chief of Police Shippy. No picketing, peaceful or otherwise, will be permitted, and any strikers found loitering around the buildings of the telegraph companies, will be arrested as vagrants.

The strikers were considering the advisability of withdrawing pickets from the Western Union building when Chief Shippy's order was issued, which aided them in arriving at a decision. The chief declared that, while the operators had a perfect right to strike, other men had the same right to work if they chose to do so, and that he did not propose to allow any interference with them.

It is the first time that such an order has ever been issued by a head of the police department in Chicago and, while the strikers declared that the companies could not get men to fill their places, the order took them by surprise.

Western Union officials announced tonight that beginning tomorrow morning, their regular service to the floor of the board of trade will be resumed.

INCREASE IN RECEIPTS

REPORT SHOW GAIN THROUGH INTERNAL REVENUE.

Figures Just Compiled for 1907 Show Gain of Over Twenty Million Compared With 1906.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14. In common with other sources of revenue of the United States treasury, the receipts from internal revenue for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1907, showed a large increase over those of the preceding year.

As shown by figures just compiled in the internal revenue bureau, the aggregate receipts from all sources for the fiscal year of 1907 were $695,264,000, an increase of $20,561,254 over the receipts of 1906. It is a notable fact that every source of internal revenue showed an increase for the last year, except the miscellaneous division, in which the decrease amounted to $40,000.

Following are the figures of the receipts and increases from the various sources of internal revenue:

Tobacco, $51,811,085, increase, $3,388,979.

Fermented liquors, $59,956,818, increase, $2,927,959.

Oleomargarine, $887,641, increase, $317,603.

Adulterated butter, $71,434, increase, $3,485.

Process or renovated butter, $161,795, increase, $35,317.

Miscellaneous, $886,052, decrease, $40,100.

TEST MERITS OF FUEL

EXPERIMENTS CONDUCTED BY U. S. DEPARTMENT.

Waste of Fuel Resources of Country May Be Prevented Through Testing Plant.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14.—Experiments with eastern and southern coals for the purpose of husbanding the coal supply of the country will begin at Norfolk, Va., next Thursday, under the auspices of the Fuel Testing Plant of the United States Geological Survey.

For two years this plant was in operation at St. Louis, and so astonishing were the results in the direction of preventing the waste of the fuel resources of the country that Congress ordered the work to be continued at Norfolk. Coal from the bituminous mines of Pennsylvania will be used in these experiments. Already the government experts connected with the plant have indicated the possibility of saving 10 per cent of the country's coal bill each year—the sum of $150,000,000—through increased efficiency in burning coal. Now the fuels of the east and south are to be tested under the steam boiler, in the gas producer and gas engines and by briquetting, in the hope that this saving may be further demonstrated.

The plant is located not far from the main entrance gate of the Jamestown exposition, and already has attracted thousands of visitors, many of whom were manufacturers interested in the economy of fuel.

Under the law which the fuel-testing plant is to be operated two classes of work are contemplated—increasing efficiency and preventing waste in the utilization of the fuel resources of the country, and testing coals that are used by the government.

Perhaps the most important tests will be those comparing the amount of power obtained from a certain amount of coal under the steam boiler and in the gas producer. The gas engine has demonstrated in former tests its ability to do from two to nearly three times as much work with a pound of coal as the steam engine.

There will also be a series of experiments tending to show just what is necessary to burn these coals without smoke.

PEACE IS GUARANTEED

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14.—The Russian and Japanese ambassadors today handed the state department a copy of a convention recently concluded between Russia and Japan to carry out the provisions of the treaty of peace at Portsmouth, guaranteeing the integrity of China in Manchuria and providing for the continuance of the open door policy in that part of the world.

AMERICA IS THE LEADING SPIRIT

PEACE CONFERENCE OWES MUCH TO UNITED STATES.

DELEGATES ARE HARD AT WORK

ARBITRATION PROPOSITIONS PARAMOUNT ISSUE.

LITTLE PROGRESS IS MADE

Expense Is Chief Objection Raised to Permanent Prize Courts—Most of America's Suggestions Are Unanimously Favored—In Its Eighth Week.

THE HAGUE, Aug. 14.—The Peace Conference has now been sitting for eight weeks, and the time is appropriate for a review of the work accomplished and that is likely to result.

The question that has aroused the greatest interest—that of the limitation of armaments—has been shelved by the present conference, but there is nothing to keep it from coming up for discussion at a future conference. Indeed, the British proposition, which is certain to be unanimously carried, strengthens the one introduced by M. Bourgeois, (French,) and adopted by the conference in 1899.

All the other work of the present conference may be divided into two categories, one composed of technical propositions destined to render war more humane, and the other of political propositions involving a principle destined to prevent international conflicts.

Little Progress Made.

In the former category the British and German propositions concerning prize courts, although the first to be presented to the conference, have not made the progress that they were expected to make, as the small powers object to the expense of a permanent court, which would only exercise its functions during war.

In this category the United States had only one proposition to offer that regarding the bombardment of undefended towns, villages, etc., which was approved unanimously. The only other proposition in this category which was approved unanimously was the addition of the Geneva convention to sea warfare. Agreement on the interdiction of the sowing of mines was hindered by Great Britain and Germany, neither of these countries being disposed to budge an inch from the attitude its naval department assumed. The proposal for the abolition of contraband, introduced by Great Britain, although it received 25 votes to five, is considered to be buried, as all the naval powers, including the United States, are against it.

Arbitration Chief Topic.

In regard to the second category a prominent American delegate said today:

"The American proposition concerning the collection of contractual debts was approved unanimously. It is now being drafted, as a separate chapter of the arbitration convention, and will soon be submitted on arbitration. The propositions concerning general arbitration and the Permanent Court of Arbitration are now the subject of daily work on the part of a large majority of us, who are anxious that the conference be a success."

This American delegate concluded, saying:

"The American delegation may well congratulate itself on its work. No doubt it will receive full credit for the services rendered peace and humanity, but it will be left to international posterity to realize how America saved the conference."

SECRETARY OF NEW MEXICO

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14.—Nath. A. Jaffa of Roswell, N. M., was today appointed secretary of New Mexico to succeed Secretary Reynolds, resigned.

MAY REOPEN THE HARTJE CASE

Millionaire Paper Manufacturer Claims He Has Letter From His Wife Asking that Past Be Forgotten.

PITTSBURG, Aug. 14.—It became known today that Augustus Hartje, the millionaire paper manufacturer, has in his possession a letter which he claims was written by his wife, Mary Scott Hartje, to him, asking that all be forgotten and forgiven, and that they agree to live together as man and wife again, forgetting all about the recent divorce trial.

This letter, it is claimed, was received by Mr. Hartje some time since. Instead of taking heed of it in the way asked, his attorneys will try to get the case now before the superior court reopened for introduction of the letter as additional testimony.

Mrs. Hartje makes bitter denial of any connection with the letter. Her representative declares that if Hartje has such a letter it is but another of the forgeries. There is no doubt that Mr. Hartje has such a letter. He has shown it to many persons, and that he believes it is genuine seems also certain.

Tom Madine, the missing coachman in the Hartje divorce case, has been located in Toronto, Ont., but refuses to come back to Pittsburg.

FOUL PLAY IS SUSPECTED

Portions of Woman's Clothing Found Near Wharf at San Diego.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Aug. 14.—The finding of portions of a woman's clothing, torn and bloodstained, on the office end of the Santa Fe docks last night, and a bunch of woman's hair lying nearby full of blood, caused the belief that a tragedy had been committed. A woman's garter and a black leather purse was found. In the latter was a note reading:

"Dear May: Meet me tonight, old place, at 8 p. m. If you do not, I will fix him and you both. Believe me, I am in dead earnest. So let my little sweetheart come. (Signed) "B."

A line of blood spots led from the place where evidently there had been a struggle, to the edge of the wharf, and this led to the suspicion that a woman had been murdered and the body thrown into the water. The authorities are investigating.

HAYWOOD CAUSES ROW

HIS VISIT TO CHICAGO PRESS CLUB PROTESTED.

Members Shun Federation Official, Claiming He is an "Undesirable Citizen."

CHICAGO, Aug. 14.—William D. Haywood, secretary of the Western Federation of Miners, visited the Chicago Press club during his visit to this city and some of the members are much wrought up about it.

An emphatic protest addressed to the board of directors was prepared at once and circulated for signatures. A vote of censure is asked for the members who brought Haywood into the club. This will be considered at the board's meeting Friday night.

Considerable commotion was caused during the noon lunch hour when Haywood appeared at the club in company with Seymour Stedman and F. Roderus. He was introduced to a number and was greeted in various ways. Stedman and Roderus then took their guest to a table in a corner, where they had lunch.

That was all there was to it until late yesterday afternoon, when Henry D. Baker, Edward Everett Young and some of the other members got to talking about their visitor. They expressed considerable indignation, and decided, according to Mr. Young, to "put the thing right up to the directors and make them decide if such a thing should be done, whether the majority of the club liked it or not."

Mr. Baker then prepared the following note to the directors:

"We, the undersigned, respectfully protest to the board of directors of the Chicago Press club against the contamination of the clubhouse's precincts by the presence of one W. D. Haywood, whom we believe to have been instigator of many atrocious murders, and who at least certainly is an undesirable citizen. The fact of the acquittal of Haywood does not vindicate him in public opinion nor render him a fit person to be allowed inside our clubhouse. We would ask that a vote of censure be passed against the men who were responsible for bringing him into the club. In making this request we would disclaim any intention of criticising a member for political opinions or socialistic views."

Mr. Baker said last night that the protest had been signed by twelve members and would be placed before as many of the club members as possible.

"It is an insult to the Press club," declared Mr. Baker, "that Haywood should be forced into association with it. Here he is an outcast socially. He escaped punishment for his misdeeds through a mere technicality, and now comes here expecting to be lionized. He came to the Press club today with a self-satisfied smirk on his face like he had done something noble, and stood around in an expectant attitude, expecting us to pat him on the back and fall down and worship like some other people have done. Well, we didn't pat. He was shunned like he should be. And if he comes into the club again we'll try to make our disapproval a little more apparent."

Mr. Young insists that the directors of the club either shall approve Haywood's visit of condemn it.

"There can't be any sidestepping," he said. "If the club stands for this kind of thing it is time right now that we should know it. Most of the members don't care to ever notice men of the Haywood stripe, and that he should brazenly walk into our rooms and make vulgar pretensions to equality—yes, of superiority—is nothing short of an outrage."

CHRISTIANS IN PERIL

TRIBESMEN NEAR CASA BLANCA IN DANGEROUS MOOD.

Much Uneasiness Prevails at Tangier Regarding Position of Europeans in Morocco.

TANGIER, Aug. 14.—There is still much uneasiness here in the matter of the position of the Europeans in Morocco.

No confirmation of the report that Caid Sir Harry MacLean has been released can be obtained. A courier and servant from MacLean have just arrived here and say that it is believed that the news of the bombardment of Casa Blanca made a very bad impression on the Kmass tribesmen and caused the suspension of the negotiations for MacLean's release. The tribesmen are furious against all Christians and wish to be revenged on MacLean who is protected by Raisuli. The latest letter from MacLean is dated August 12.

CHEYENNE CANON TO BE BRIDGED

IVY BALDWIN WILL CROSS ON STEEL CABLE.

SINGLE WIRE 1,000 FEET HIGH

ROPE WALKER IS WILLING TO COURT DEATH.

NEGOTIATES WITH COMPANY

War Balloonist and Champion Tight Rope Artist Offers to Tread Pathway of Death From Peak to Peak in South Cheyenne Canon.

What will be the highest bridge in the world will be thrown across the chasm in South Cheyenne canon near the Pillars of Hercules, in the heart further at a distance of 1,000 feet above the bottom of the gorge. The bridge will consist of three quarter-inch steel cable and will be open to foot passengers only, but it is not expected that the traffic will be heavy, owing to the reluctance of most people to risk their lives on a single wire cable at a height of 1,000 feet above a roaring mountain stream and unupholstered rocks.

In fact, the chances are that the only man in the world who will ever be hardy enough to cross the bridge is Ivy Baldwin, of Denver, the champion tight rope walker of the world, for whose special benefit the bridge is to be stretched by the South Cheyenne Canon company.

C. D. Weimer are brought to a successful termination. Mr. Baldwin was in Colorado Springs yesterday and laid his plans for making the most startling tight-rope walk ever attempted, before Mr. Weimer, who is considering the matter. The prospects are that the public of Colorado Springs will be given a chance to see Baldwin in the most hair-raising performance ever attempted by a tight-rope walker, that of crossing from one 1,000-foot pinnacle to the other on a strand that will look no larger than a spider thread from the bottom of the chasm.

Baldwin Courts Death.

Ivy Baldwin is the man who largely crossed the "Gateway" at Eldorado Springs on a cable over a chasm 582 feet above the ground and a stretch of 535 feet from rock to rock. This performance is claimed to be the record for tight-rope walking, but Baldwin, who is still unsatisfied and looking for new fields to conquer, now offers to tread a pathway of death almost double as high as that of his last desperate feat. On a score of occasions, Baldwin has fallen from heights that mean death to the average mortal, and bears fractures on both jaw bones, shoulder bones and both arms, which testify to the narrow escapes he has encountered. His luck, however, has not forsaken him, and he is still willing to tempt fate at heights where no other man in the world would dare venture.

A War Balloonist.

Baldwin has also had a remarkable career as a balloonist, having been through the Spanish-American war in that capacity for the war department. At Santiago while at a height of 100 feet, his balloon was punctured by a bullet from a Spanish sharpshooter, and Baldwin was brought to the ground at a pace more speedy and exciting than healthy. He continued with the army in Cuba until the termination of the war and tendered valuable service on many occasions by furnishing information of the enemy's location.

This intrepid balloonist and tight-rope artist has toured the world since the war with Spain, and his nerve is as well known across the Atlantic as in America. His feats have outrivaled those of the great Blondin, the king of tight-rope men for many years, and if he is permitted to pull off his feat in crossing Cheyenne canon, he will either have broken his own record by several hundred feet or will have been dashed to a grease spot on the rocks at the bottom of the gorge.

PLANS BIGGEST DREADNOUGHT

British Government Is Building Battleship of 30,000 Tons According to Report.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14.—Naval circles are agitated over a report which has reached Washington that the British admiralty is about to lay down the keel for a giant ship that will be 50 per cent greater in tonnage than the Dreadnought. It is difficult to get any information respecting the plans for this ship, and it is said that the British government is again proceeding, as it did in the case of the Dreadnought, to build the vessel behind closed gates.

Eventually, of course, the main characteristics of war vessels, built under these conditions, become known, but the British government feels that it is amply repaid for the trouble it takes to build the ship secretly by the fact that the British Navy is thereby kept at least two years ahead of that of any other country in point of design, a most desirable consideration in these days when a battleship is frequently obsolete five years after going into commission.

It is understood that the new ship is to be of no less than 30,000 tons displacement, against 20,000 tons of the Dreadnought. But aside from the mere matter of superior size the design is believed to include many innovations, some based on the experience of the Dreadnought. Such a one, for instance, is understood to be the contemplated assembling of three guns in each turret, so that if the new ship is equipped with six turrets she will carry no less than eighteen guns in her main battery. The caliber of the guns, however, still, it is believed, remain at twelve inches, the present standard.

The report of the British plan has caused some of the bolder spirits among the American ship designers to proceed to greater length, and to propose the laying down of a battleship of 35,000 tons displacement, placing the American navy clearly in the lead. Naval designers are believed to be willing to undertake the construction of such a ship. It would cost no less than $20,000,000, but in view of the predominance it would give to America as a naval power, it is argued by the advocates of the proposition that such a ship would be an economical investment by tending to insure peace.

VIPER MAKES GOOD SHOWING

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 14.—The Viper, one of the four submarines constructed for the navy at Quincy, has completed her torpedo trials in Narragansett Bay.

The Viper during her target practice was submerged to a depth of 10 feet and running at full speed loaded and fired four torpedoes, three of which hit the target.

VICTORY FOR REFORM

REPUBLICAN LEAGUE WINS IN SAN FRANCISCO.

Primary Election Results in Victory for Ryan Ticket—Graft Prosecution Will Be Supported.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 14.—The primary election in this city resulted in a sweeping victory for the Republican League or Ryan ticket, which stood for earnest support of the graft prosecution and the present mayor and board of supervisors. The opposing faction, led by Postmaster Fiske, made a sorry showing, electing not more than fifteen delegates to the party convention, which will consist of 149 members. The result was a notable triumph for the reform element.

The regular Democratic or McNab ticket was victorious and will control the nominating convention by a large majority. The representatives of the better element of union labor party cast a majority of their votes in favor of McCarthy and the Schmitz organization.

The element opposed to the bribery graft prosecution will control the labor convention, but whether or not ex-Mayor Schmitz's friends will go so far as to renominate him is problematical. The victory of the Ryan Republicans means but one thing—political support of the bribery graft prosecution, and in all likelihood the nomination of District Attorney Langdon, who it is privately understood will be backed by McNab also.

ASSEMBLY BIG SUCCESS

LARGEST STATE GATHERING OF BAPTISTS.

Every Place of Accommodation at Cascade Crowded With Guests. Able Addresses Given.

With a registration of nearly several hundred members, the Colorado Baptist Summer assembly is holding its meetings in Cascade. Delegations are present from almost every point in Colorado, and many visitors are in attendance from as far east as Pennsylvania and from Kentucky and Texas. The attendance is not confined to baptists, representatives of other denominations being present. The large Ramona hotel is crowded, and there are nearly 100 registered at Camp Pike Ridge.

The Rev. J. H. Franklin, pastor of the First Baptist church of this city, has been unanimously elected president of the assembly. He has given the association much time and is exerting every effort in behalf of its advancement.

Yesterday morning's session opened with the music in charge of the Rev. E. G. Lane of Boulder. Dr. B. E. Hart, president of the Colorado Baptist State convention, followed with an address on "Girding for Service." Dr. R. M. West of St. Paul, Minn., delivered the first of a series of addresses on the sermon on the Mount. At Colorado Springs he will be heard next Sunday morning in the pulpit of the First Baptist church. The closing address of the morning was delivered by Dr. James A. F. Francis of New York, in an interesting exposition of the fourteenth chapter of St. John.

The twilight service was held in the canon and was conducted by Dr. Francis. The evening session was held in Assembly hall at the Ramona hotel. Missionary addresses were made by Dr. D. D. Proper of Des Moines, Ia., and Mrs. M. C. Troyer of Porto Rico.

Today promises to be one of the most important days at Cascade canon. A special train will be run from this city at 8:45 a. m. fro mthe Rio Grande station. Returning, the train will leave Cascade after the evening program. Dr. West and Dr. Francis will each speak twice. Besides this, Mrs. M. C. Troyer and Rev. Joshua Gravett will take part.

Many will probably go up to Cascade tomorrow, to remain until Monday. Special rates will prevail from many points. Those who cannot be accommodated at the Ramona hotel will find rooms at the Cascade house, and on cots in the camp.

The people of Colorado Springs will have an opportunity of hearing Dr. Francis next Sunday, when he will address the Christian Endeavorers of the First Baptist church at 6:40 o'clock in the evening. He will preach in the same place at 8 o'clock.

WORST PANIC IN HISTORY COMING

WILL ARRIVE UNEXPECTEDLY

INDUSTRIAL CONDITIONS ARE COMPLICATED.

CORPORATIONS IN THE WRONG

Because They Have Been a Help in the Past Is no Reason Why They Shall Escape Punishment for Violations of the Law Now.

"The worst panic in the history of the United States will take place within a short time," said Judge Ben. M. Smith, justice of the superior court of Chicago, in talking of the present conditions of the corporations in the United States. "The reason I believe it will be the worst panic is because of the complicated condition of our great industrial institutions, our corporations and railway systems. Money is being accumulated in huge sums and when a failure of 20 years ago would affect 10 people a failure today will affect thousands. Panics strike the country about every 20 years. Each generation must learn their lessons by experience. I do not know when the next panic will come but it is not far distant, and it will be the worst in the history of the country. The business man who is wise will be careful in his calculations because the panic will come suddenly and with very little warning.

"The farmer is the backbone of the nation. When his crop fails it affects all people no matter in what kind of business they may be engaged. All industries depend either directly or indirectly upon the condition of the majority of the farmers in all parts of the country.

Corporations Are Wrong.

"The corporations at the present time are taking the sulking attitude instead of receiving and giving justice. It is not a question of a balance between right and wrong. It is true they have done wonders in the past. If it were not for the corporations the present advancement of the west would have been impossible. Great sums of money are needed for a large undertaking. Many staple products are cheaper now than they were 20 years ago and to the corporation must be given the credit. However, the majority of corporations at the present time are in the wrong, and because they have been a great help in the past is no reason why they should escape punishment now. A man may live a model life for 50 years and then kill a human being. Because he lived as he should for the first 50 years of his life is no reason why he should be pardoned for committing a crime in the fifty-first year. The same may be said of the corporations.

The Truly Educated Man.

"There is another subject of great importance to the American people and that is the educational system. A prominent Chicago educator said a short time ago that the educated man is the one who can concentrate his mind on one subject for 30 minutes and not let his thoughts wander for a moment during that time. I believe that statement expresses what the really educated man can do. You may go to college for 10 years and yet be unable to think on any subject for even 30 minutes. It is easy to think upon subjects in which you are interested for hours at a time but the real test comes when you are required to concentrate your mind on a subject in which you have little or no interest. Education means everything to a man but the education which teaches a man to concentrate his mind is the kind that counts in the long run."

Judge Smith and family are spending a few days at the Mansions hotel before going to Estes park for the rest of the summer. He considers Manitou an almost ideal summer resort and will come again next year if possible. He is a young man, hardly 40 years old, but has made rapid advances in his profession until at the present time he holds one of the highest positions in the Chicago courts. There are over 1,000 cases on his docket at the present time. The judge and his family have made many friends in Manitou who regret to see them leave for their home.

NEGOTIATIONS IN PROGRESS

Strike at Belfast Expected to End Satisfactorily Soon.

BELFAST, Aug. 14.—We cannot complete our negotiations tonight, but they are progressing satisfactorily, and we expect that they will be completed tomorrow."

This official statement, issued tonight by Sir Antony Patrick MacDonnell, under secretary to the lord lieutenant of Ireland, was spread rapidly through the city and produced an excellent impression. The police and the military again were withdrawn from the disturbed area this evening, and a quiet night passed quietly. The clergy and the magistrates for a second time undertook the responsibility of keeping order and their task proved a very light one.

POPE COMPANY FAILS

RECEIVER APPOINTED FOR AUTO MAKERS.

Value of Concern's Property Reaches Into the Millions—Business of Company Will Continue.

HARTFORD, Conn., Aug. 14.—Albert L. Pope was today appointed receiver of the Pope Manufacturing company, upon application of the McManus-Kelly company, of [illegible], Pope's son of Colonel A. A. Pope.

In the court's order it is specified that the receiver may conduct the company's business, including automobiles and bicycles to such an extent as in his judgment is advisable.

The appointment of a receiver for the company was due to the present condition of the money market, according to counsel for the receiver.

The Pope company has manufacturing plants in Hartford, Enfield and Westfield, Mass. and Hagerstown, Md. In the complaint the value of the company's property in this county is given at $3,551,595. The McManus-Kelley company claims damage of $85,000.

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—Egbert J. Tamblyn was appointed by the chancery court of New Jersey as receiver of the Pope Manufacturing company's property in that state yesterday. The application for a receiver was made by counsel for the Pope Manufacturing company.

BOSTON, Aug. 14.—By the last financial statement of the company published in June, current liabilities were placed at $2,600,000 against which were shown assets aggregating $5,380,000. Of the current assets $4,185,000 represents materials and supplies and product on hand, mostly automobiles.

KIEL, Germany, Aug. 14.—There was a holiday at the Krupp gun building works here today, with a distribution of money to all the workmen in celebration of the birth of a son and heir to Herr and Frau Von Bolden-Hallbach. At Essen, the birth of the heir was also celebrated.

MAKE AUTO RECORD FROM K. C.

Distance of 852 Miles Covered by Daring Drivers in 29 Hours From Kansas City to Denver.

DENVER, Aug. 14.—Covered with mud from head to foot and sunburned until their eyes were almost closed, Joseph A. Wittman and party drove into Denver at 4 o'clock yesterday morning, having established two world's auto records between Kansas City and Denver.

The first record was that in covering the one of 36 hours between the two cities in 29 hours, and the other was one of making a continuous trip without interruption—a feat never having been undertaken before.

In the party with Mr. Wittman were Henry Gilmore, who drove the machine, and E. H. Patterson and H. H. Herr, the latter of the Kansas City Post.

Many, indeed, were the experiences of the daring party. Leaving the office of the Kansas City Post at 4:30 o'clock Sunday morning, they had little trouble until they reached Oakley, Kan. In fact, they were three minutes ahead of the time they had scheduled. It was when the party reached three miles west of Oakley that they met with their first misfortune, a tire running at the rate of 35 miles per hour they ran into a mudhole. So deep was the mud that it took four hours hard work before the machine could be released and start on its way again.

No further trouble ensued until the Colorado line was crossed. Then tire troubles set in, causing a delay of 10 hours. Another accident occurred a few miles east of Limon Junction, when, while running at the rate of 30 miles an hour, the car skidded on the approach to a new bridge, taking down the temporary structure. Three hours were lost from this source.

Undaunted by their mishaps, the autoists continued, determined to break all records between the two cities, and they did. They are now pronging their time putting their machine into condition again for the return trip. They will start from McFarland's garage tomorrow afternoon at 1 o'clock.

EDWARD GREETED WARMLY

Meeting Between Rulers Witnessed by Thousands.

CASSELL, Hesse Nassau, Prussia, Aug. 14.—King Edward reached Wilhelmshohe this afternoon and was met and warmly greeted by Emperor William who wore the uniform of a British field marshal. The road from the railroad station to the castle was occupied its entire length by troops. Large crowds witnessed the meeting and the stands erected at the favorable spots were crowded with sightseers. The emperor and his guest were escorted to the castle by a squadron of Hussars. Chancellor Von Buelow arrived at Wilhelmshohe last evening.

HOT FIGHT FOR COMMANDER

Reunion Army of Philippines in Progress at K. C.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Aug. 14.—The time of the delegates to the annual reunion army of the Philippines today was taken up with business matters.

The delegates late in the day considered the report of General Greene favoring the holding of the next gathering in Manila. The election will take place tomorrow. There is a hot fight on for the commander in chief. The leading candidates are Generals J. S. Franklin Bell, who is in the lead; General S. M. B. Young and Harrison Gray Otis of Los Angeles.

The cost of experience is generally money well invested.

IS A MOTOR CAR POST ROAD

In New Mexico the Automobile Beats the Railway.

From the Kansas City Star.

Across the semi-arid plains of New Mexico, 111 miles and back again, in eleven hours and thirty minutes actual running time, is the record made in a Kansas City man last week. This remarkable ride was taken in an automobile belonging to the service established by the Roswell Automobile company between the towns of Roswell and Torrance. When J. F. Stockard, mayor of Roswell, conceived the idea of establishing a fast motor car service between these two towns he was told that the project was nearly impracticable. But with the situation clearly defined in his mind he persisted and he is now carrying as many passengers daily between the two points as his equipment will accommodate. This is the situation:

The main line of the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe system goes over the Raton range 150 miles north of Roswell. To go from any point on the main line of the Santa Fe to any point in the Pecos valley of New Mexico one must journey as far east as Trinidad, then across the plains to Amarillo, Tex., and then southwest on the Pecos Valley line. It is a day's journey from Amarillo to Roswell. Mr. Stockard's automobile line bisects this big railroad triangle. Its terminus is Torrance, where it connects with the Santa Fe Central line, which in turn connects with the present main line of the Santa Fe system at Kennedy. The automobile line reduces the time necessary to make the journey from Roswell to Albuquerque more than twenty-four hours. A corresponding reduction is made in the time taken to make the journey to numerous other points in the territory.

Mr. Stockard built his own road. At the outskirts of Roswell the chauffeur turns abruptly from the public road. The big machine, equipped to carry twelve passengers, goes slowly over a curiously constructed fence row crossing. It is built on the plan of a railroad cattle guard, except that where the steel rails are laid on the railroad crossing there is on Mr. Stockard's crossing grooved runways upon which the wheels of the automobiles run in making the crossing. Across the sand-swept, mesquite-covered lands which stretch away for an indefinite distance Mr. Stockard has laid out his road "as straight as the crow flies." There are few curves and but comparatively few depressions or bridges. One of the largest is seventy-five feet across. It is spanned by a bridge built by Mr. Stockard. The road is a "made" road. A big drag was used. It made a twelve-inch hard path on each side of the center, a beaten track for the automobile wheels to run in. Fifty-four miles from Roswell is the half-way house where Mr. Stockard maintains a free hotel for his patrons.

The line is across a desolate, dreary plain, here and there a tract of ground in cultivation or perhaps a ranch-house to relieve the monotony of the sand and mesquite brush. There are plenty of prairie dogs and, once alarmed by the approach of the big machine going at a forty-mile clip, three or four antelopes scurried in their peculiar graceful fashion away from the machine. It was cool and inviting this ride, except where the sun beat in on unprotected face or hands.

Mr. Stockard has been running this line a year and it is a recognized institution in the Pecos valley. Perhaps some railroad may parallel the automobile route and Mr. Stockard will then have competition, but until then he has a good thing and knows it. He has a government mail contract which nets him a good revenue.

"Train or auto mail?" the clerk at the Gilkeson house will ask you if you mail a letter at the hotel counter.

JUMPERS IN NEW YORK

JERSEY COLONY WILL INVADE BROADWAY.

Holy Jumpers Will Tell of Pillar of Fire—Will Journey From Denver Headquarters.

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—Broadway, and particularly that part of it lying between Times Square and Thirty-third street, is to be the scene of another religious crusade. The failure of Dowie's mission here does not seem to have deterred the Holy Jumpers, who live on a farm near Weston, N. J. A hundred members of the Pentecostal Union, or "Holy Jumpers," whose headquarters are in Denver, are at present working the farm. After the crops are in, which will be in about a month, 60 of the Jumpers, men and women, are coming to New York.

"You can't do much with preaching," they say. "Even a band won't impress Broadway, but dancing will."

So their principal means of attracting hearers will be the dancing, or "Holy Jumping." In costumes consisting for the men of helmets and bloomers, and for the women of flannel dresses and helmets, the Jumpers will gather in Times Square. After the crowd has gathered the fervor for jumping will seize upon the Armada.

If their antics do not make Broadway stop long enough to hear what the preachers of the outfit have to say, the Holy Jumpers say they have other cards up their sleeves. But they do not expect to be obliged to play them.

The Jumpers are said to be highly moral in their views of things. No divorced person or one who has been gossiped about is welcome to the bobbing circle. The marriage relation is held sacred with them. A number of the Jersey Jumpers are married and have children who are being trained in the school erected recently on the Western farm. Young women Jumpers are not allowed to go shopping in New York without the protection of married women Jumpers. They are also expected to keep away from bargain counters while shopping, as the grabbing of a bargain by the strongest woman out of the hands of a score of weaker in succession is not regarded as conducive to spiritual contemplation.

Then, too, if the jumping frenzy should seize any of the sisters, the results might be serious. The leaders do not wish to be responsible for panics in department stores. They wish to stand or jump well in the community.

Pillar of Fire to Consume Broadway.

In order to be fortified well against the wit of Broadway, the Jumpers will, after their material affairs in the shape of crops are attended to, hold a revival service on the farm. Then they will come to tell Broadway about a pillar of fire that is going to destroy it, though some of the more sophisticated members of the flock hope that Broadway will not treat the announcement in the same way that it would the appearance of a new electric sign, for the "pillar" will not advertise anything. It will be a consuming, reformative force that after it has seared away the works of iniquity will leave room for rebuilding upon jumping lines.

"I don't know just what sort of permit they will get," said a Times Square policeman when he heard the news. "We have permits to parade in plenty, but I never heard of a permit to jump."

The Jumpers, however, do not seem to be worrying about permits at the present time.

"New York is cursed with pastors who leave in the summer time, taking their religion with them," said a leader of the Jumpers, "and then when they do return in the winter, after having played golf and other sports with the wealthy of their congregation, they feel sensitive about taking their magnate hosts to task for the industrial evils of society. Now, we are not so hampered. We not only stay on the job all summer, but we don't play golf; so there you are."

MENTAL MEDICINE.

A somewhat eccentric physician who recently died would order patients to take walks, say, daily, on the left side of the street, returning he would order to arise each morning at a certain hour and eat cheese with ginger beer; another to take supper precisely at midnight, and eat only apples; or he would instruct the patient to put just so many grains of salt on the egg he was to eat, and part his hair in a different way each day. His object was to get the mind of the patient on something else than symptoms, and this scheme worked well in many cases, especially when the patient was suffering from melancholia.

AIR AND SUN CURE.

In the large German towns, and also those of German Switzerland, visitors will be struck with the frequent recurrence of the words, "Licht-Luftbad Anstalt," advertised on buildings. Investigation will show that the building on which this sign is placed is surrounded by a high fence, inside of which numbers of men and women will be found disporting themselves in the open air. These people are clothed sufficiently, but the clothing they wear is light to a degree, and it admits all of the air and sun possible. These air baths are a new scheme to restore health by returning to nature.

THRONES OF KING EDWARD.

Great Britain has at least half a dozen thrones, of which three are in London palaces, one in the house of lords, one in Westminster abbey and a sixth at Windsor castle. Of these, the most ancient is that in the abbey, where each new ruler of the British empire is crowned. The Austrian emperor, like his brother, the Russian czar, has several thrones—one in the great Hofburg in Vienna, and another in Budapest as King of Hungary. The latter is the more interesting on account of its history and antiquity.

The phylloxera pest has ruined 1,900,000 acres of vineyards in France.

FEAR TO EXPLORE CAVE.

A few miles from Worcester, Mass., in a rock, chasm called Purgatory, is a cave whose narrow passageways seem to lead into the center of the earth. No one has yet had the courage to penetrate into its depths, and to attempt such a thing would be a very difficult and dangerous proceeding. At its bottom is an unexplored subterranean lake or river.

TRUTH-TELLING.

The test of civilization is its regard for truth. Truth is nothing more than honesty. The habit of telling the truth begets accuracy of statement, and the habit among a people of hearing and expecting the truth produces the truth. Honest men who have no intent to deceive are called truthful, but if they are lax and careless, and have been habituated to loose statements, and themselves place no great value upon truth for its own sake, they are pretty sure to be inaccurate, and therefore mistrustworthy. For this reason, perhaps, Sir Walter Scott declared that the right education for a young man was to learn to fish and to tell the truth.

A BATH SUGGESTION.

Perfumed tablets containing carbonic acid, which, when placed in a bath, cause the water to bubble vigorously, are recommended by French physicians. The treatment is recommended for old and infirm persons, and those troubled with weak hearts. The effect is said to be a mild and pleasant stimulant.

Besides the locust, the insects which are eaten for food are the bugong moth of Australia and the gru-gru, a fat white moth found among the palm trees of the West Indies.

Brilliant Groups of Society People Witness Closest Match of Series at Broadmoor Grounds.

The Denver junior polo players defeated the Colorado Springs team of the Colorado Mountain Country club in an interesting polo match on the grounds of the Country club at Broadmoor yesterday. The final score was 3½ goals to 3, and each team forged ahead at intervals during the game, keeping up an interest until the end of the last period. A team from the Country club will play the Sheridan team for the Lippincott-Sherman handicap cup today. Tomorrow another game will be arranged for this cup, and the Denver "Freebooters" will play the regular Country club team in the finals for the Keene trophy Saturday.

The match yesterday afternoon was witnessed by several hundred spectators, many of them in automobiles and carriages. The Denver team was slightly better mounted and gave a better exhibition of team work. The local men played brilliantly at times, but did not put up the steady, consistent game of their opponents. After the match the visitors were entertained at dinner at the Cheyenne Mountain Country club.

Harrison Scores First.

Four periods of 10 minutes each were played. In the first period, Harrison scored a goal for the Springs, but Denver retaliated in quick succession with two goals by B. Hughes and one by Symes. L. Hughes fouled, losing a goal for Denver. Score: Colorado Springs, 1 goal; Denver, 2½.

Neither side was able to score in the second period, although this was one of the most exciting of the afternoon. The Denver goal was managed at close range twice, but the defenders, through clever back-handed strokes and some heady riding, aided by an element of luck, managed to keep the goal clear until the end of the period. In like manner, the Springs players, at the beginning of the period, side-tracked the ball at critical moments.

In the third period, Gardiner for Colorado Springs, made a difficult goal just at the close of the period. Denver was unable to score, and the local enthusiasts, who had been discouraged, were crying for another goal to cinch the game.

Phipps Cinches Game.

Butler made a neat stroke in the fourth and last period, scoring a goal and placing the Springs in the lead by ½ goal. Phipps of Denver, however, shot the ball between the Springs goal posts just before time was called, winning the match for Denver by a score of 3½ to 3 goals.

The lineup:

Bryant, referee.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas F. Walsh and Miss Evelyn Walsh, together with Mr. and Mrs. Crawford Hill, arrived from Denver yesterday afternoon in Mr. Walsh's big touring automobile. The party registered at the Antlers hotel and will remain here until the polo tournament is concluded next Saturday.

The Walshs will give a dinner dance at the Cheyenne Mountain Country club tonight. The affair will be one of the most brilliant of the year. Many prominent Denver society people will be among the guests.

FROM CHICAGO IN AUTO

A peculiar automobile with high carriage wheels has attracted the attention of the guests of the Alamo for the past two days, and was the object of considerable comment on the streets. In this unusual style of machine, Mr. and Mrs. W. Bulkell and Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Montgomery of Chicago are touring the west, averaging 25 miles an hour actual running time.

The automobile is different from any other machine ever seen here. It is built upon the old cable plan. The wheels are of the standard carriage size with solid rubber tires. Some doubt was expressed as to the comfort of this car, but the tourists say that it is as comfortable to ride in as the machine with pneumatic tires.

The party left this morning for Denver and will go from there to Boulder and then to Salt Lake, the end of their journey.

FUNERAL OF G. C. HEWITT

Remains Laid in Vault Pending Word From East.

The funeral of the late G. C. Hewitt, who died Monday morning of heart failure, was held yesterday afternoon at the family residence on Wood avenue.

The remains are being held in the vault at Evergreen cemetery to await a message from the father of the deceased at Wyncote, Pa. On account of the strike of the telegraphers, the relatives have been unable to communicate with the father of the dead man. No further disposition of the remains will be made until instructions are received from his parents in Pennsylvania.

The services were conducted by the Rev. Henry Ringers Remsen, rector of the Grace Episcopal church, and were attended by a large number of the friends and relatives.

OLD RESIDENT PASSES AWAY

Mrs. W. F. St. John Dies at Home in Indiana at Ripe Age.

Mrs. W. F. St. John, a former resident of this city, and mother of W. B. E. P. and J. C. St. John, of this city, died Tuesday morning at the home of her daughter, in Marion, Ind. The deceased was 84 years of age. She came west from Indiana in a prairie schooner in 1870, and lived here until [illegible] she went back to her old home in Indiana. Two of her sons, W. B. and E. F. St. John, were on the way to her bedside when the news of her death came. Six children survive Mrs. St. John, three sons and three daughters. The funeral will be held in Marion.

FREIGHT WRECK—The derailment of a freight car at Acequa, a few miles north of Palmer Lake, delayed traffic for several hours on the Rio Grande road last night. The track was cleared shortly after midnight. No one was injured.

TO PARK CASCADE AVE.

SIX BLOCKS OF RESIDENCE STREET TO BE IMPROVED.

Petition Circulated Among Property Owners to Park Avenue From Cache la Poudre to Platte.

Under instructions from Mayor D. N. Heizer, Alderman Fred Hill has just completed the circulation of petitions to the property owners on Cascade avenue between Cache la Poudre street and Platte avenue, submitting the question to them as to whether Cascade avenue shall be parked within that territory, and if they decide that it shall be parked, whether the majority favor parking in the center or upon the sidewalks.

The question has been given consideration heretofore, but no organized movement similar to the one now in progress was made. When a majority of the property owners shall have decided upon the plan they desire, bonds will be issued for the completion of the work as soon as possible. It is expected that the several departments of the city will be able to complete the improvements before frost makes cement and kindred work impracticable.

Estimates obtained when the work was proposed some time ago put the cost per foot for parking at about $5.50 for the center and $5.00 for the sides.

INSANITY PLEA OF FRIENDS

Art Flannigan, Alleged Forger, and Safe Blower Said to Be Insane. Will Be Tried in Court.

Art Flannigan, who is charged with forgery, and is said to be a general all around bad character, was placed on trial for insanity in the county court yesterday. A jury was impaneled and the case will be resumed today.

The authorities are of the opinion that Flannigan's attorneys have started the insanity plea with a view to saving him from the penitentiary. He is now in the county jail charged with passing a forged check in this city.

Flannigan is said to have been implicated in a safe blowing affair at Fountain several years ago. He was wanted by the police several months ago on the forgery charge, and escaped from the detectives after a long chase through the business section of the city. Nothing further was heard of him until a prisoner calling himself William Casey, arrested in Douglas county for forgery, was transferred to the El Paso county jail for safe keeping. He was at once recognized as Flannigan, and retained by the authorities of this county to answer the forgery charge previously placed against him.

WHITTHORNE BOOSTS SPRINGS

Illustrated Article on Union Printers Home Good Advertisement.

W. C. Whitthorne, president of Colorado Springs Typographical union No. 87, is the author of an extensive article on the Union Printers home, in this city, published in the Memphis Commercial Appeal of August 11, the day previous to the opening of the convention of the International Typographical union at Hot Springs, Ark.

The article embodies a complete history of the institution, from its inception 14 years ago, and gives some very interesting data in reference to life at the home, particularly of the treatment of tuberculosis by the fresh air method.

The article is profusely illustrated by views secured by Mr. Whitthorne, which show the buildings and extensive grounds at the home. The Commercial-Appeal printed the story on its front page, and especial care was taken with the arrangement and presswork of the half-tone cuts, as well as with the color work with which they are surrounded.

"TREES" PORCUPINE

Roughing in Antlers Park Causes Midnight Sensation.

The shouts of a policeman attracted several persons who had business at the Denver & Rio Grande depot about 1 o'clock this morning as they passed through the Antlers park, and a rush ensued to where the policeman was diligently casting the flashes of his lantern in among the shrubbery, with the expectation that someone had been murdered. In response to queries, the policeman replied that he had something treed, but that he didn't know what it was. After a brief search the "thing" proved to be a porcupine that had wandered into the park and concealed itself among the bushes. No one displayed any special eagerness to catch the animal, and it was allowed to proceed unmolested in the direction of the Antlers hotel.

FALLS FROM STREET CAR

E. Muller Injured While Alighting From Car on Pike's Peak Ave.

As the result of getting off a street car in the wrong way, E. Muller, a tourist living at the New England house, on North Tejon street, is suffering with a badly sprained back, besides a number of severe bruises. Muller started to get off the car at Pike's Peak avenue before the car had stopped. He was thrown violently to the ground, falling on his back. Although the injuries are not serious he will be laid up for some time.

AUTO RUNS AMUCK

Machine Strikes Bank on Hill and Is Wrecked.

The $1,600 Columbia automobile of Graham E. Babcock, of 1332 North Cascade avenue, is a wreck as the result of an accident, near Manitou about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Babcock was driving the machine and was going down a hill at a fast rate of speed. Without any warning the machine gave a lurch and turned toward the side of the road, striking the bank with great force. Babcock escaped uninjured with the exception of a few bruises.

THURSDAY, AUGUST 15, 1907.

A PARADE WORTH SEEING.

FORTUNATE, indeed, are the surviving members of the Fifteenth Pennsylvania Cavalry who will be in Colorado Springs next week to take part in the reunion with their old leader! Fortunate not merely because of the delightful journey they will have and the still more delightful outing in a region filled with scenic wonders which will be entirely new to most of them, but because of the opportunity of again meeting their former chief and enjoying his hospitality under conditions which will make the event memorable for the remainder of their days. And as a fitting climax to the programme there is to be a parade, led by General Palmer himself, which will stir the hearts of the veterans as they have not been stirred since the strenuous days of the Civil War. The entire affair is unique, yet it is precisely the sort of idea that everybody who knows General Palmer would expect him to conceive and execute.

The men who followed the lead of William J. Palmer throughout the war, first in the Anderson Troop and later in the Fifteenth Pennsylvania Cavalry, were mere youngsters in the beginning, but they were real men long before time for the master out-door, hard riding, hard fighting daredevils who saw more of the grim business of soldiering in a week than falls to the lot of most fighting men in a month. Getting in the thick of the trouble was their specialty, and though this resulted in a steady thinning of the ranks, those who remained seemed to thrive on it. As showing the sort of visitors we are to have next week, it may be of interest to insert here a brief description written by one who knew General Palmer's command at first hand:

Until the war ended, under its indefatigable and indomitable leader, the regiment led a life of strenuous activity. Day and night in storm and sunshine it hurled on, always in advance of our armies, skirmishing all day and riding through and over rebel camps at midnight. Scores of men from sheer exhaustion slept in their saddles and were awakened by ringing shots and clashing sabers in front, where General Palmer always rode.

Horses by hundreds sank down beneath their riders and became the prey of vultures, their places being filled from the nearest stables or fields, for the regiment always lived off the enemy's country. For an hour or two during the day or night the men were allowed to rest and eat, and it was frequently a question with them which they could do first. During its three years' term of service the regiment marched about forty thousand miles through the forests, over the corn and cotton fields and across the rivers of ten great states. When the ranks were reduced by death and health-destroying hardships to a few hundreds, recruits were sent from home to fill the vacant places.

A brave and brilliant lieutenant who had been assigned to one company after another to take the places of disabled officers, becoming responsible for the equipment of each company to which he was temporarily assigned, once remonstrated with the general against what he considered an unfair arrangement. When asked what the general said in reply, he answered, "He looked me straight in the face apparently astonished, and said, 'Lieutenant, did you join the army to avoid responsibility and hardships?'"

What must be the emotions of the survivors of that gallant band as they march again next Wednesday behind their old leader! The youngest of them are gray-haired men now, but the spirit of '61 will assert itself and for the moment they will forget all the accumulated infirmities of forty-five years. They will ride through the streets of Colorado Springs as proudly as they rode through the South in the old days, and on every side they will see the old flag under which and for which they fought. Truly, it will be a memorable occasion, not only for them but for the people of Colorado Springs, and we can well afford to put ourselves to some pains to decorate the town and make it more beautiful for their reception.

It appears that each of the foreign races that comes to American shores under our easy immigration laws brings with it a secret organization for the promotion of sudden death. The Italians have their Mafia and their Black Hand, the Armenians their Hunchakists, and the Chinese their Highbinders. Statistics of crime show that the pure, unadulterated American stock leads the civilized world in the gentle art of murder, and it would therefore seem that we are fully capable of maintaining our unenviable reputation without the aid of foreign criminal societies.

If the Supreme Court upholds Judge Landis' decision and compels the Oil Trust to pay its fine, and if the Government wins its suit now pending at St. Louis to dissolve the trust—what then? Will the dear public be able to buy its oil cheaper, or will there merely be a continuance of the same old thing, carried on under a different name? What a relief it would be if we could get rid of all those pestiferous its and interrogation marks!

Now that New York has definitely established itself as the most lawless spot on the continent, its newspapers no longer have the nerve to liken conditions there to those in a Western mining camp. The West has had to answer for some pretty bad crimes in its day, but it never was disgraced by very many of the particular kind now being committed on the wholesale plan in New York.

A California scientist declares that there is more nutriment in ten cents worth of peanuts than in a pound of beefsteak, but such is the indifference of the ignorant public to scientific discoveries that there are people who will actually keep on eating porterhouses when they might subsist just as well and a great deal more cheaply on goobers.

"The President and I understand one another," says Secretary Taft. Sure. The President understands that Taft wants to be his successor, and Taft understands that he is to get the job. This is one happy arrangement with which everybody is satisfied.

The discovery that the bite of a rattlesnake will cure cancer is likely to produce prosperity in Kentucky, for of course every cancer victim will have to pickle himself in corn juice before trying the new cure to make certain that it isn't worse than the disease.

Judge Landis regrets that he is unable to send Mr. Rockefeller to jail. This is another point on which the oil magnate is compelled to differ from the Chicago jurist.

So far as we can learn, Chancellor Day is about the only man in this country who accepts Tolstoi's prediction of the early downfall of the United States Government.

Having decided that disarmament is desirable but not practicable, The Hague conference is right where it was before it tackled the subject.

LADY VIOLET GREVILLE'S "REST CURE."

From the Boston Herald.

Hear this "rest cure" prescribed by Lady Violet Greville: "After a London season of strain and stress I do not know how a more agreeable hour can be passed than lying in a hammock in the garden, while the lightly falling petals drift to earth in dreamy, fugitive silence and the larks and thrushes fill the air with sweet melody, the scent of the roses rises lovely and delicious, and enthralling pages transport one into a world of imaginative delight." But only one "hour" Violet. Can't this ecstacy of "rest" be prolonged until dinner time?

THE TEXAS LAW CROP.

From the Chicago Record-Herald.

The Texas legislature gained most fame this year by two of its deeds. First it contributed to the improvement of the government at Washington by seeing Senator Bailey in office. Waters-Pierce Oil company included. Next it passed the nine-foot bedsheet law, which has already become celebrated wherever man concerns himself closely with the comforts of life.

But that is by no means all the legislature did. It passed a law making it an offense for any man in public office to employ under him any relative, unless the relationship is more distant than second cousin.

It forbade the drinking of any kind of liquor on trains under any circumstances.

It passed a law compelling any theatrical manager to book any attraction applying for an open date if the character of the production is suitable for a first-class playhouse.

It required all railroads to use electric headlights.

It passed a more rigorous Sunday closing law for saloons, and another law forbidding saloons having in connection with their bars any device calculated to draw patronage, such as billiard or pool tables.

It closed not only all bucket-shops in the state but also all stock brokers offices.

Half-fare rates have been prohibited as well as passes, not only for railroads but also for street cars and telegraph and telephone companies.

The mere possession of articles commonly used in games of chance has been made a criminal offense, and betting on baseball games is likewise made punishable by law.

There were numerous stringent laws against corporations enacted, one of which has already caused twenty-one of the leading life insurance companies to withdraw from the state.

And the complaint of the governor of Texas against the legislature is that it was not sufficiently drastic in matters about which white people suffer.

MURDER IN AMERICA.

From the Kansas City Journal.

An Anglo-American—evidently much more Anglo than American—is quoted in the London Mail as giving utterance to some very unpleasant facts concerning the alarming increase of homicide in the United States. The writer, referring to the expedition with which the English criminal law works, prefaces the article with the remark that during the twelve years covered by his observations the only approach in this country to the swiftness of English justice was in the case of the assassin of President McKinley, when an irresistible public sentiment demanded and secured the immediate punishment of that wanton and savage crime.

Taking this case as a basis, the writer draws from the inexorable statistics the conclusion that if the victim had been a person of less prominence than the well beloved president of the greatest nation of the world the chances of his execution would have been only about 1 in 10. For in the last twenty years there has been but one execution for each 10 murders. The figures do not appear to take into account the fact that capital punishment has been abolished in some states and that there have been many convictions not followed by executions. Neither do they evidently take cognizance of the fact that large numbers of murders have been followed by convictions where the penalty has not been either death or life imprisonment. When these statistics have been taken into consideration the proportion of convictions to murders will make a much better showing for the efficacy of American criminal laws than to compare the executions with homicides—though the showing at best is poor enough.

The figures are startling and instructive as to the increase in the number of murders during the past 20 years, during which period they have increased from 131 to 851 in this country. In that time there have been 3,236 executions. In 1885 there were but 1,808 murders and only 108 executions, while 19 years later there were 8,482 murders and only 116 executions. That is to say, while there has been no great increase in the number of executions, homicide has increased five-fold.

Americans are now killing each other at the rate of 9,000 a year, not taking into account the killing of the murderers themselves. But until accurate figures are forthcoming showing the proportion of convictions to homicides the efficacy of American criminal law cannot be so unsparingly condemned, even though the slowness with which it moves may properly be criticised, and by none so vigorously as by Americans themselves.

There are fourteen times as many murders committed in America per million inhabitants as in England, eight times as many as in Japan, ten times as many as in Canada, five times as many as in Australia and twenty-five times as many as in Germany. America has the opprobrious distinction in this respect of making a "finer" showing than any other civilized nation with the exceptions of Italy and Mexico. The proportion of murders to population in this country is actually on the increase.

These melancholy figures furnish food for the most careful thought. While it is unquestionably true that a large proportion of these crimes are committed by foreigners, yet America is judged by the aggregate and not by classifications of nativity.

PROHIBITION IN THE SOUTH.

From the Philadelphia Public Ledger.

The prohibition wave which is sweeping over the south seems to be gathering strength. The action of the Georgia legislature in enacting absolute prohibition from January 1 next has stimulated the prohibition workers all over the south. Alabama is seriously agitating similar legislation, with action likely to be taken at the next session of the legislature. Tennessee is almost completely in the possession of the prohibitionists. After the first of October only three cities in the state, to wit, Memphis, Nashville and Chattanooga, will sell liquor. The traffic has been forbidden in all other cities by local option votes, but the Tennesseeans are not stopping here. Nearly all the incorporated cities that have "gone dry" are passing the most rigid laws forbidding liquors received from the outside to be delivered, the purpose being to prevent, insofar as can be done without infringing the interstate laws, the receipt of any packages containing liquor.

As a sample of the drastic legislation, the following is a copy of the ordinance passed by a large number of leading Tennessee cities, the measures in question having been enacted last week at South Pittsburg, Tenn.:

Section 1. Be it ordained by the city council of South Pittsburg, Tenn., that hereafter it shall be unlawful for any person to give or offer to give any intoxicating beverage to any habitual drunkard, minor or pupil attending school within the said city or to order, directly, or indirectly, any intoxicating beverage for another.

Section 2. Be it further ordained that it shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to knowingly permit or encourage or allow persons to deposit on their premises or on their place of business, for the purpose of being drunk, any intoxicating beverage, or knowingly to permit the same to be drunk on the said premises or where said business is being conducted.

Section 3. Be it further ordained that it shall hereafter be unlawful for any club, secret order, firm or corporation or individual person or persons acting for the same to receive within the city limits of the city of South Pittsburg any spirituous, vinous or malt liquors or any other intoxicating beverage for the purpose of club drinking or for the purpose of dividing the same between clubs, secret orders, firms, corporations or individuals.

Section 4. Be it further ordained that any club, secret order, firm or corporation or individual violating any of the above sections shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction shall pay into the city treasury not less than $25 nor more than $50 for each and every offense.

TARIFF REVISION.

From the New York Tribune.

The Tribune has for some time past advocated an overhauling of the present tariff law. Tariffs are necessarily short lived, for they are based on conditions which are always more or less in flux. The Dingley law was passed ten years ago. By June, 1909, it will have been in operation twelve years, and that is the full average life of an American tariff. Yet in the last ten years industrial and commercial conditions have changed more rapidly and more radically than in any two decades in our earlier history. Our imports and exports have both doubled since 1897, and the United States is now pushing to the front as the greatest dealer in the world's markets.

From the point of view of the most obdurate "standpatter" a protective tariff under which imports have doubled ought to be nearly ripe for revision, which from the point of view of the enlightened protectionist, interested as much in profitably extending foreign trade as in maintaining a just differential in favor of domestic labor, industrial conditions under which exports have doubled and an increasing surplus of domestic manufactures has to be cared for, clearly demonstrate the need of striking a new balance in our international trade relations.

Some of the Dingley rates are too high because they afford a protection which is now excessive. Some have no economical justification at all, because they affect products whose price is determined here without any reference to foreign production or competition. Possibly some are too low, owing to unforeseen changes in our own or in the foreign market. Thus they are to a large extent necessarily out of touch with the industrial and commercial activities of today and could be readjusted with benefit both to the American producer and the American consumer.

STATE'S GRUDGE AGAINST BILL DUGAN.

From the Grand Mound (Clinton (Iowa) Advertiser.

The case of the State of Iowa vs. William Dugan, taken from here before Police Judge Leffingwell at Clinton last Tuesday on a warrant sworn out by his brother-in-law, Thomas Hughes, of Berlin township, charging him with threatening to shoot or something similar, was discharged for want of evidence. Rats! Bill wouldn't shoot anybody. The real history of the town and people would guarantee that no one would be shot, except by a bottle in the neck, which occurs quite frequently, and all the dead ever found on our streets and alleys were dead drunk, which, God knows, is bad enough without commenting further.

SOMETHING DOING IN THE DUMAS FAMILY.

From the Mobile (Ala.) Item.

Mr. and Mrs. F. F. Dumas left over the Mobile and Ohio Railroad for Coopers Well, Miss.

Miss Mary Rose of Chattanooga, Tenn., is visiting her aunt, Mrs. O. Dumas, on Michigan avenue.

Mr. Jere A. Dumas and bride, also Mr. Lawrence Dumas and bride, after visiting their mother, Mrs. J. T. Dumas, on Spring Hill avenue, for the past week, returned to their homes at Hattiesburg and Talladega, respectively, Wednesday morning.

Miss Jennie Dumas will leave Saturday for her two weeks' vacation. She will go to Coopers Well, Miss., to join her mother and father, who are spending a few weeks there.

Mrs. J. T. Dumas, Misses Sallie and Lela Dumas, and Mrs. S. E. Lilly left over the Southern Railway Wednesday for Chattanooga and other points, to spend a month.

Adventure of an Indian Army Colonel With Elephants.

From Illustrated Sporting and Dramatic News.

"A Major Kane was the name of a famed colonel in the Indian army, with whom I served many years in many different stations. I remember one ordinary guest night when Padhurst, a deputy conservator of the Indian forest department, happened to be my guest. He was a great shikaree, and had, from the nature of his calling, great and many opportunities, of which he had made good use. I had stayed with Padhurst in the jungles and knew him well—or as well as anybody—and while at dinner our conversation had been mostly of the jungles and shikar. I had suddenly said to him:

"Oh, by-the-bye, Padhurst, do you remember when I was staying with you at Cherakara, a report came in just as I was leaving you, of a big rogue elephant which had killed a bandyman. Did you hear anything more about it?"

"Oh, yes," replied Padhurst, "it turned out to be quite true, and what is more, the next day the same brute killed an old woman who was going along the road to shandy (weekly market). The people all got scared and would not go along the road. At last government proclaimed the elephant a rogue, and I went after him. He was a fine tusker and very dangerous—the trackers were very frightened to follow him. However, I succeeded in getting onto his tracks and shot him. He was a good riddance to the district."

To the ordinary man this all reads easy enough; but to any man who has been after rogue elephants and knows their cunning and their proclivity for charging at sight of you, also the fact that you can't bring them down by hitting them anywhere—at least not in the days of black powder—this simple narrative of Padhurst meant a lot. A big rogue tusker is no partridge.

Now Padhurst, the civil surgeon, the regimental medicine man—for by such a description was O'Moyle, our doctor, generally known—saw at once it was too good an occasion to let go by, and that our gallant colonel should immediately be made to show his capabilities.

"Of course, colonel, you, too, must have shot a few elephants in your time, I suppose," said O'Moyle to Jhoot Singh.

The Colonel's Chance.

"Oh, yes, I was rather keen on going after elephant at one time," replied Jhoot Singh. "When I was quartered in Mercara, about twenty-five years ago, they were very common, and were a great nuisance to the planters round about, breaking down fences and destroying young trees, and frightening coolies and that sort of thing, and, of course, where there were so many elephants, rogues were sufficiently numerous to cause some excitement even among the Europeans. It was when a rogue began to select the main ghat roads, and so interfere with our supplies for the mess, that we generally took most interest in their maneuvers, and I, as the best shikaree in the regiment, was nearly always sent out to account for them, which, of course, I invariably did. I went on, till, bagged so many that I get rather tired of the sport, and used to urge that others should have the practice, and that it was good for all young officers to have a little practice at going for rogue elephants. Teach them to keep their heads in the presence of danger, and not be dismayed by the size and number of their enemies, as it were. When it comes to facing a charging elephant with a 12-bore shotgun, though, you get excitement enough, I can tell you, and it wants nerve and self-confidence. In fact, I can honestly say I know no one but myself at present, who has successfully experienced such an event, and I know few who I believe would. However, it's a strange world, and I may some day meet another who has."

"Surely, colonel, you never went after elephants with a shotgun, and I am sure you were too experienced a shikaree, even 15 years ago, to be taken by surprise," suggested the medicine man.

"Certainly not," replied Jhoot Singh. "Even with all my experience and nerve I should not dream of trying to bag an elephant, like a pigeon, with a 12-bore shotgun, loaded with No. 6, and, as you say, even 25 years ago I had sufficient experience of shikar not to go into elephant jungle with only such a weapon; but even the most experienced of us at times meet with most unheard of circumstances, and the event I had in mind when I spoke was quite exceptional, and I do not think even I have been more surprised than when I bagged one elephant with No. 6—not so much at the fact of slaying him as at the altogether peculiar circumstances of the case, because, after all, with a little luck, any good shot might at least save himself if armed with a double-barrel 12-bore.

"Do tell us all about it, colonel," was almost a universal request from those sitting round.

Unique Experience.

"Well, I don't, you know, care much about talking about myself, but as this was really a unique experience, I'll tell you how it came to pass," started Jhoot Singh. "It was about 25 years ago, when I was quartered with my regiment in Coorg, at Mercara, and a real good place it was, too, for anybody fond of such sport as gun and rod give, and those fond of such sport got all they wanted in big game shooting, as the place abounded in elephant and bison were obtainable within reasonable distance to the ardent sportsman. I personally revelled in the opportunities that were afforded me, and spent all the leave I could snatch away in the jungles, and it is to the great amount of exercise I took indulging in this hobby that I must ascribe the fine physique and good health I possess now.

"Whenever I went out in the jungles I always went prepared for any sort of game, and so took two rifles and a shotgun—I had a double-barreled 8-bore, a double-barreled .450 express and a 12-bore shotgun and what was very important, I always had two most excellent shikarees; they were a long way the best in the district, which is not altogether to be wondered at, when you remember that they had such extensive practice going out with me, and, moreover, knowing what an unerring shot I was, they never bolted with the spare rifle or gun, as the case might be.

"Well, on this particular occasion that I am going to tell you about, I was away on three days' leave about forty miles from headquarters, just pottering around, as it were, seeing what I could pick up. I was rather keen on making a good selection of skins and birds, that I stuffed myself—in fact, up till a few years ago, when I lost it crossing the Salween in Burmah, I had one of the best collections, private collection, of course, of Indian birds in the world. Well, as I was saying, I was just pottering around in the jungle looking for anything and everything. As I knew we were in a part where elephants were common and liable to be met at any moment, I myself carried my 8-bore rifle. Immediately behind me was No. 1 shikaree, with the .450 express, and behind him again was No. 2 shikaree with the shotgun—loaded, as it happened, with No. 6, for I was hoping to come across some imperial pigeon such as I had shot in Malabar. We were moving in this order along a narrow track through a thicklish jungle quite quietly, for from long practice, heavy as I am and was, I could move along a jungle track as quietly as any bare footed native—or, almost all, practice—perhaps, to a certain extent, it was natural in me.

"Well, we had been moving along like this for perhaps half a mile or more, when my practiced ear detected the sound of an elephant's tread, and, almost at once, coming along the path toward us was a magnificent tusker; he seemed then one of the finest elephants I had ever seen.

Had He Missed?

"I let him come on, and when he was about [illegible] yards away, I just took a bead on the spot you, of course, all know, so well, just above the trunk and below the eyes, and let him have the right barrel. As the smoke cleared (there was no smokeless powder in those days) I [illegible] a little surprised, I just let him have the left barrel in the same spot. Though I knew full well I had hit him, yet, with the instinct of the true shikaree, I reached round and took the express from No. 1 shikaree, who took the 8-bore from me. No. 1 shikaree then changed places with No. 2. While he reloaded the 8-bore. This was a part of my training of them, and it was the work of less than a moment.

"When the smoke of the left barrel of the 8-bore cleared and I saw the elephant still advancing, I must confess I was then surprised. However, I just took, if possible, a little more care in my aim, and let him have the right barrel of the .450 express, and I felt sure I had downed him. Again, as the smoke became thinner and I saw Mr. Tusker still coming on and on, I must say I began to get annoyed, and so I again brought the express to my shoulder and let him have the left barrel in the same spot. I knew I was on the spot—I had too much experience to make a mistake. I had scarcely pulled the trigger, you may say, when I had handed the empty express to No. 2 shikaree, and took the 12-bore shotgun from him, he immediately changing places with No. 1, who had loaded the 8-bore, and come directly behind me.

"A slight breeze had sprung up from the right, and as the smoke of the left barrel cleared you can imagine my annoyance to see the elephant still coming on. Yes, still advancing, evidently intent on simply walking over us. It is not often I get angry, but I felt quite hot with anger. However, I never let trifles interfere with my better judgment for long, and I was as determined to dispute that path with the elephant as the elephant seemed to wish to do with me. I let him come up, and when between 15 and 20 paces I gave him the right barrel of the 12-bore, and, scarcely waiting long enough to see that he had not dropped, I gave him the left barrel, which I knew would settle him at that distance. My faithful No. 1 shikaree, almost at the shot, had his hand on the gun, and had pressed the 8-bore into my hand. I instinctively grasped it, and none too soon—for here, almost above me, you might say (for it could not have been more than five yards in front), loomed the great monster. I somehow or other felt cooler than I did before—my anger was turned almost to sorrow, as, taking aim quickly, I fired the right barrel of the 8 bore, and immediately heard the heavy thud as the elephant came to the ground—you might well say, at my feet.

"Not a muscle of him moved. He certainly was a large beast, and I was examing him for the marks of the various shots, when an exclamation from my shikaree made me look up, and I saw him, half dazed, as it were, pointing to the path along which the elephant had come. I soon understood his amazement, for there, almost immediately behind this elephant, was another bull, quite dead, and further examination showed another behind him, and so on, until we counted seven dead elephants—it was just one for each shot—a small herd coming on in single file. I felt quite pleased to think that after all I had not missed, as I at one time almost thought."

"Eh? What did you say, Blotcher?" (the youngest sub) "Pass the salt? Why, you have it at your elbow."

JEWELS NOW MATCH TEACUPS.

From the New York Press.

It isn't enough to have different tiaras, necklaces and rings to match one's evening gowns, or even to possess a profile of your dogs in flashing gems to wear when you wish to take your pet walking. If you wish to be "in it" you must buy jewelry to match your afternoon teacups. A fascinating fashion has arisen among society women in Paris of wearing rings and bracelets set with stones that match the colors of the china. The effect is charming, it is said, and no doubt the idea will be copied by women here.

Today's Horoscope

Thursday, August 15, 1907.

Today Uranus pledges in his skies
That counsel good shall reach you from the wise.

The 227th day of the year; moon's age 8 days. Mars and Uranus are in benefic aspect with the moon.

Good counsel is augured during these 24 hours. Seek advice of those who are old and experienced.

An excellent day to start on a long journey.

Deal today with those of the opposite sex. Also a good day to deal with lawyers and printers.

Good auspices look down on schools of either business or residence.

A singularly favorable day for putting up delicate fruits or preparing midsummer lunches of which fruit is the main feature.

A good day for fishing.

Those whose birth date this is are threatened with anxiety in business and with the receipt of documents that will annoy them. Speculation is their greatest danger. They will probably travel and make changes in their occupation. While the result will be good, it will not equal their expectations.

The child born today will be active and will travel much in an easterly direction. It will be generous to excess. The fault to be guarded against in its youth is untruthfulness.

SIXPENNY COTTON.

A Woman's Protest.

Senators, magnates of lordly air,
Hear the moan of the weaker sex;
Treat your colonies fair or fair,
Crush trades unions and railroads wex,
Base our money on gold or lead,
But give us, oh, give us, our five-cent thread!

Wages may rise or wages fall,
The Constitution and Flag may part,
Tariffs make beggars of us all,
Trusts may triumph in arts or art;
These are trifles, when all is said
But give us, oh, give us, our five-cent thread!

Beef may rise till the crack of doom,
And only the hoofs and tail remain
To the hungry worker at desk and loom,
Judges be blind to all but gain,
Courts may sever whom love has wed;
But give us, oh give us, our five-cent thread!

Statesmen and rulers in places high,
Hear our warning and wisdom learn,
Long have we eaten humble pie,
But even the worm at last will turn;
Water our milk and scant our bread,
But give us, oh give us, our five-cent thread!

—A. F. Dyer, in the New York Times.

FAIR INEZ

Oh, have you saw sweet Inez?
She's went into the east
To splash around in salty waves
And break six hearts at least.
She took her best clo's with her,
Our troubles are increased,
And we must hit the quick-lunch joints
While she can blithely feast.

Gee, how we miss fair Inez
While she is far away;
The chief clerk has a solemn look,
He used to be so gay.
The boss is grouchy, and I heard
Him swearin' yesterday
Because there wasn't no one here
Knew how to spell sassbay.

Come back, come back, sweet Inez,
To hammer on the keys;
It seemed like music when you made
Your O's and I's and E's.
Come back and bring your battin' suit,
Which reaches to your knees,
Come back, we'll let you wear it in
The office if you please.

SPRINGS POST WILL ESCORT PENNSYLVANIA HEROES.

Everything Possible Will Be Done to Assist in Giving "Fighting Fifteenth" Men a Good Time.

Colorado Springs post, No. 22, G. A. R., has completed arrangements whereby the entire membership will act as a committee of reception and entertainment, as far as it is within their power, to the veterans of the Fifteenth Pennsylvania cavalry, General William J. Palmer's regiment, who will arrive in Colorado Springs August 21, and for several days will be the guests of their former commander.

While the action of the members of the post will in no way interfere with the arrangements made by General Palmer for their entertainment while here, whenever any of their old Pennsylvania comrades [illegible] themselves with a few minutes on their hands, a local veteran will be ready to take them in charge.

Arrangements are also being made to have the members of the local post take part in the parade of the "Fighting Fifteenth," which is to take place on August 21. The Colorado Springs veterans will act as an escort to the visiting regiment and will be the only local organization in line.

On behalf of his visiting comrades, General Palmer yesterday accepted an invitation for the party to visit the Cave of the Winds. General Palmer also informed Messrs. Austin and Snyder, the proprietors, that he would endeavor to take part in the trip himself.

A [illegible] for the use of the visiting veterans during the reunion has been printed. In one corner of these souvenir cards is a reproduction of the insignia of the Fifteenth Pennsylvania cavalry, which is made up of a saddle, crossed carbine and saber, with the inscription, "F. V. C. 15."

WILL MEET IN PUEBLO

RED MEN CHOOSE LITTLE PITTSBURG.

Dr. D. F. Cummings of Lake City Chosen Great Prophet and Dr. J. H. Smith, Pueblo, Gt. Sachem.

It was decided at a late hour yesterday afternoon, in the Improved Order of Red Men, to hold the great council next year at Pueblo, Colo. A petition was received from the Pueblo lodge, asking that the great council be held there next year, and after a short discussion the request was granted. The [illegible] of this city, in behalf of the citizens, asked that the great council be held here again next year, but the invitation was declined and a vote of thanks sent to the mayor and citizens for the invitation. The council next year will be held some time in August.

DR. D. F. CUMMINGS,

The contest for election as representatives to the great council of the United States, which will be held in Norfolk, Va., beginning September 9, was very close. The two successful candidates were John A. Holmberg of Denver and D. F. Cummings of Lake City, Colo. The delegates were instructed by the petition the great council to revoke the recent order against wearing of regalia by the members of the order, and also to do all in their power to revoke the ruling recently passed, which does away with the order of sachems.

Officers Elected.

Dr. D. F. Cummings, Lake City, great prophet; Dr. J. H. Smith, Pueblo, great sachem; J. W. Boyds, Idaho Springs, great senior sagamore, and James S. Proctor, Denver, great junior sagamore. John Essen of Trinidad and P. Petrie of Grand Junction were candidates for the office of great junior sagamore. Proctor, however, was elected. John A. Holmberg of Denver was chosen great chief of records, and Charles J. Nichols of Denver great keeper of wampum.

The following chiefs were appointed by the great sachem: A. Thomas, Pueblo, great sannap; John Gysin, Trinidad, great misquenna; George B. Geiger, Colorado City, great guard of the wigwam; F. R. Smith, Telluride, great guard of the forest.

Committees Appointed.

Yesterday afternoon the newly-elected officers were installed and speeches were made by different men of the order. The following committees were appointed: Finance, F. W. Gyllenten, Denver, William Shelten, Denver, and Robert Hardman, Denver; mileage, H. W. Hames, Montrose; E. Fletcher, Breckenridge, and J. S. Trainer, Beulah, Colo.

Several more delegates to the great council arrived in Colorado City yesterday to attend the election of officers and assist in the initiation of the new Colorado City tribe this evening at 8 o'clock in the Marcott Opera house.

A resolution was passed thanking the mayor, citizens of Colorado City and the press for what had been done to help make the convention a success. A special vote of thanks was passed thanking Adam Geiger of Colorado City for his work in preparing for the entertainment of the delegates. The ladies of the Degree of Pocahontas were also thanked for their presence and help during the days of the convention.

ROOMS FOR TOURISTS

Chamber of Commerce Has List of Places for Visitors.

Although there is the largest regular crowd of tourists in Colorado Springs than during any previous season, and the hotels are all filled to overflowing, the Chamber of Commerce announces that it has a list of excellent places where good accommodations may still be had at reasonable prices. Many of the homes in the city have been thrown open to the visitors, and those who fail to find suitable quarters at any of the hotels can readily secure first-class rooms at these places by inquiring at the Chamber of Commerce.

The report that tourists can not find suitable apartments in this city is without foundation. It may be that some of the visitors have been disappointed here, but if they will inquire at the Chamber of Commerce they will be directed to quarters as good as they could reasonably want.

Best Treatment for Diarrhoea.

Mr. Edward E. Henry, with the United States Express Co., Chicago, writes: Our General Superintendent (Mr. Quick) handed me a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy some time ago to check an attack of diarrhoea. I have used it since that time and cured many on our trains who have been sick. I am an old soldier who served with Rutherford B. Hayes and William McKinley four years in the 23rd Ohio Regiment, and have no ailment except diarrhoea, which this remedy stops at once." For sale by all druggists.

WILL SAY "HELLO BILL"

ELKS OF NO. 309 WILL GREET BREHREN AT DEPOT.

Over 1,000 Members of Pueblo Lodge and Friends Will Visit City of Sunshine.

The members of Colorado Springs lodge, No. 309, B. P. O. E., are going to maintain their reputation for doing things in good shape, when they march in a body to the Santa Fe station at 9:30 o'clock this morning headed by the Elks' band, to fall unchallenged upon the members of Pueblo lodge of Elks and their families, who will today picnic in South Cheyenne canon, play a game of baseball in the afternoon with the local Elks' nine and wind up with a dance in the evening at the big pavilion at Stratton park.

The visitors from Little Pittsburg will arrive over a thousand strong at 9:30 a. m. The local Elks band, together with the members of the lodge, will assemble at the club house at 9:00 o'clock, march to the station, and escort the visitors to the clubhouse, from which point they will take cars to the picnic grounds. A special request is made by the committee in charge that all members of No. 309 be on hand at the clubhouse at 9 o'clock sharp. Visiting Elks are also invited to take part.

The committee of the local lodge in charge of the arrangements is composed of John Hill, Mark Bailey, George M. Taylor, Robert A. Miller, and Chester B. Horn.

The baseball team of local Elks will be in charge of Captain Jack Swartz, and his team, as well as that of the Pueblo lodge, is made up of some of the best "old-timers" in this part of the state, which is a guarantee that there will be a game of ball worth witnessing at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. The game will be played near the pavilion at Stratton park.

Tickets for the dance will be supplied to all Elks and their families by the committee of the Pueblo lodge at the pavilion in the evening. Cards of visiting Elks will admit them. Fink's orchestra will furnish music for the dancing.

LOVERS OF NOBILITY

Aristocratic Maiden and Lover Court in Secret and Elope in an Automobile.

MADRID, Aug. 14.—Love's strategy has revived an institution of the middle ages and a "marriage by surprise," to which two elopers have just had recourse, is being copied through the length and breadth of the land.

Having in mind the enchantment of the romance of King Alfonso and Queen Ena, stern parents in Spain have treated young lovers with more than usual leniency. Yet in the noble house of de Conquista there was an exception. The fair daughter of the house, Dona Petronilla, named for ancestors of the ages past, loved the young marquis de Villa Real. In every way the pair of lovers were ideal. She a maiden of 18 years, was beautiful, patrician to her finger tips and an only child of wealthy parents. The young man is the son and heir to the ancient marquisate, a tall and handsome figure, well to do but devoted to sport and motoring rather than to the busy walks of working life.

The two young aristocrats lived in their family palace in this city and met frequently in the gay life of Madrid, now basking in the sunshine of a full blazoned reigning court.

They loved. The youth declared his love to the haughty marquis de Conquista and was instantly refused. He sought the aid of his parents, but they, too, met with a rebuff. The opposition fanned the young couple's love into a passion. The fiery blood of young Spain would brook no obstacles. The young marquis met Dona Petronilla in secret; he bribed her duena; a charming secret correspondence passed between them.

One day one of the girl's scented love missives went astray. Her father read it. There was an instant search of her rooms. In the ransacking billets by the score were unearthed and with them the details of the secret courtship.

The marquis, the marchioness and their daughter left Madrid the next day. For weeks young De Villa Real was in despair. No word came from his sweetheart. Her father's servants withstood all bribes for a time and private detectives could get no trace of the girl and her parents.

The Elopement.

But at last a young servitor succumbed, perhaps to the lure of gold or perhaps out of love and sympathy for her young mistress. At any rate the youthful marquis learned that the de Conquistas had been given the loan of a relative's country house on the outskirts of the village of Trujillo. Here in the birthplace of the great Pizarro was Dona Petronilla hidden away.

Her lover disguised himself and took a trusted mechanician and his swiftest motor car to the village. It did not take him long to communicate with the dona. Quickly an elopement was arranged. Quite in the fashion of the middle ages did the girl steal from her bedroom window in the old castle. A run through fields with her lover to the high road where the motor car was in waiting and then off to Madrid as silently and swiftly as could be.

The young marquis did not scorch. He could not afford to meet with an accident nor run into the hands of the Guardia civil. The summer's sun was up by the time the 130 miles was ended and the car drove through the streets of Madrid. At the first church arrived at a halt was made. The youthful couple descended and entered the church. The organ was pealing, the priest was chanting, for early mass had begun. The couple made their way toward the front. They watched till the priest faced the congregation then they slipped to their knees and clasped each other's hands.

One According to Law.

As the priest, with arms uplifted pronounced the benediction of the mass the youthful lovers repeated a little formula necessary for constituting the "marriage by surprise." When a moment later they stood erect and looked into each other's eyes they were man and wife according to both law and the church.

All haste was made to reach the young marquis' home. Here at the breakfast table the bride was warmly welcomed by the bridegroom's parents and relatives. A telegram detailing events was sent to Trujillo. The marquis de Conquista being a sensible man, made the best he could of it and with great reluctance gave the happy pair his blessing.

No secret was made of the marriage in society circles, though many gossiped because there apparently was no public ceremony.

MEN FAST SIXTY IN DANGER

More than half of mankind over sixty years of age suffer from kidney and bladder disorders, usually enlargement of prostate glands. This is both painful and dangerous, and Foley's Kidney Cure should be taken at the first sign of danger, as it corrects irregularities and has cured many old men of this disease. Mr. Rodney Burnett, Rockport, Mo., writes: "I suffered with enlarged prostate gland and kidney trouble for years and after taking two bottles of Foley's Kidney Cure I feel better than I have for twenty years, although I am 91 years old." For sale by all dealers.

A LONDON FRUIT LUNCHEON.

Harriet Quinby in Leslie's Weekly.

One or two places in the shopping district of London have this year established a speciality of serving fruit luncheons, and they appear, and deservedly so, to be very popular. For a shilling one will have served a plate of fresh fruit, including a slice of fresh pineapple and cream, one banana, one orange, one apple, a couple of pressed figs, a couple of dates, a handful of cherries, and a generous quantity of mixed nuts. The fruit salads, or the macedoines of fruits, which are simply a variety of fruits prepared and eaten with a fork, together with a biscuit and a cup of tea, make a substantial and attractive luncheon.

A HARD WORKER.

Secretary Straus puts in 10 or 12 hours' work a day at his desk in the department of commerce and labor, and takes long walks whenever opportunity occurs.

Woman's Nightmare

No woman's happiness can be complete without children; it is her nature to love and want them as much so as it is to love the beautiful and pure. The critical ordeal through which the expectant mother must pass, however, is so fraught with dread, pain, suffering and danger, that the very thought of it fills her with apprehension and horror. There is no necessity for the reproduction of life to be either painful or dangerous. The use of Mother's Friend so prepares the system for the coming event that it is safely passed without any danger. This great and wonderful remedy is always applied externally, and has carried thousands of women through the trying crisis without suffering.

"MARSE HENRY" AS ARTIST.

It is not known by many, even of "Marse Henry" Watterson's most intimate friends, that Kentucky's famous editor chose an artistic career when a boy. He was sent to Paris by his father to pursue his musical studies under the masters there, and adopted the piano. He declined to play in public, but he can pound as much music out of the piano as the best of them can.

HEAD OF DENVER COLLEGE.

Dr. John C. Shedd, formerly of the University of Wisconsin, and for several years head of the department of physics at Colorado college, at Colorado Springs, has been chosen dean of the faculty of Westminster at Denver, a new institution, to be opened on September 1.

RESEARCHES AMONG INDIANS.

Dr. A. L. Kroeber of the University of California has been at the head of a party of scientists from the university who for years have been searching for stories which have been handed down among the Indian tribes of California for many hundreds of years. Their work has been extremely satisfactory.

NEWS OF THE LOCAL COURTS

Deputy Sheriff J. E. Scofield has arrested William Johnson, an escaped convict from the Canon City penitentiary, and thought to be responsible for the recent burglaries in Colorado City and Manitou. Scofield will secure a reward of $50 offered for Johnson's capture. The prisoner was serving a seven-year sentence at Canon City, imposed for burglary in this city in 1903.

William Smith, colored, is in jail charged with the theft of a pair of trousers from B. G. Robbins' clothing store. The negro admitted taking a pair of "pants," but denied stealing any trousers.

Lawrence Potter, a driver for the Holston Lumber company, was arrested yesterday by Constable W. P. Lanahee, on a warrant sworn out in Justice Bailey's court, charging him with cruelty to animals. He will be given a hearing today. Potter is accused of driving one of the company's horses so hard that the animal died.

WHAT THE PRESS AGENTS SAY

"PINK TEA" MATINEE AT OPERA HOUSE TODAY

The Pringle Stock company playing at the Opera house this week will give two performances today. A "pink tea" matinee this afternoon at 2:30 and this evening. They will present one of their most popular plays, a comedy drama entitled, "Her Mad Marriage." There will be an entire change of specialty acts. This company will close their engagement in this city on next Saturday evening, opening at the Curtis theater in Denver the following day. On Friday evening, also for Saturday matinee, the play will be "The Little Detective." For their closing performance Saturday evening they will be seen in their great comedy melodrama entitled, "The Lighthouse Robbery." Special scenery will be used for the production of the above plays. On Saturday evening Miss Pringle will give away another beautiful diamond ring. Popular prices of admission are charged: Matinee, children, 10c; adults, 25c. Evening prices, 15, 25, 35 and 50 cents.

"THE WIZARD OF WALL STREET" COMPANY

Lew Virden's regular road company will open their season at the Opera house next Monday evening, presenting the musical comedy entitled, "The Wizard of Wall Street." The Galveston News, in speaking of this attraction says: "The Wizard of Wall Street Co.," Lew Virden's merry musical comedy, was a pleasant surprise last night, coming as it did without the usual hot air you hear ahead of some shows. The Wizard immediately won favor and will always be welcomed as one of the good ones in the way of musical comedies. Galveston show-goers know a good show and show their appreciation in the right way when a good show comes along, and last night was no exception to the rule, as they fairly tore down the house, figuratively speaking. Every number was applauded to the echo. Miss Dunlap as Slatrina was the bright shining star, and to say she was a hit would be only saying half of it. She was a knock-out. She is clever, has a splendid voice and a magnetic personality which make her an instantaneous favorite. Her clever specialties won her a home here. The musical numbers were all great and won repeated encores.

HAY FEVER AND SUMMER COLDS: Victims of hay fever will experience great benefit by taking Foley's Honey and Tar, as it stops difficult breathing immediately and heals the inflamed air passages, and even if it should fail to cure you it will give instant relief. The genuine is in a yellow package. For sale by all dealers.

A PEDAGOGUE ON WALTER SCOTT

From the Chicago Inter Ocean.

Another young David of a pedagogue has come forth and the Goliath that he has slain is Walter Scott.

Professor James Weber Linn in addressing an audience of women in the Kent theater of the University of Chicago, damned the "Wizard of the North" with faint praise and glibly explained how much better artists are the University of Chicago novelists than was the great Scotchman whose readers have been millions in four generations now, whose monument flits the eye in Edinburgh, "the Athens of the North," whose "Fair Maid of Perth" was pronounced by Goethe a perfect novel, whose surpassing genius was declared by Balzac to be equal to his own.

What virtue lies in this young professor that we should assume that his wits are qualified to deliver a sweeping judgment upon life, or upon a great portrayer of life? No man of the world, no man of action, no man of intellect, but is insufficiently bored by such lucubrations. In fact, we can not conceive that any save men of mere academic thought and women who are seeking to be thrilled will be impressed by Professor Linn's cocksure utterances.

Walter Scott requires no defense. Men such as the late secretary of state, John Hay, such as Lord Rosebery, elegant literati, accomplished men of the world, wits and solid minds, both of them, have paid public tribute to the great master whom millions admire, whom millions have loved.

The trouble with too many college critics is their habit of ignoring everything but books. Diligent grammarians, for instance, they analyze language, but their knowledge of life is second hand.

As Walter Bagehot, that acute critic, remarked of their kind a remark that bears repetition—"The trouble with writers who know how to write is that that is all they know."

Seriously, what right have they to find fault with Scott because he does not write as they write today, or because his constructive technique is not the same as that in vogue today?

They fancy that the vogue today is a finality; that it will not be obsolete tomorrow. The assumption reveals a lack of historical literary sense.

What is style, asks Brunetière, the French critic whose knowledge and appreciation of literature are perhaps the broadest in our day. He answers his own question: "Style is a form previously considered literary."

That is to say, style is a vogue, a fashion, the lingual expression of a generation's particular turn of mind, so to speak.

If the style of Walter Scott does not suit some young professors, would theirs suit him? Does theirs suit even this present day? We trow not.

Readers ask for action, ideas, situations, characters, not for a nice, precise, professional chastity of speech.

USING MAISETTES.

It was owing to Queen Alexandra's adoption of a sensible little device that a number of fashionable women appeared at the recent Ascot races with "maisettes"—lorgnette-like affairs with a green silk shade projecting about a couple of inches over the eyes. Thus the view of the course was not obstructed by bechiffoned parasols. The device was first used by the young Queen of Spain to protect her eyes from the glare of the Madrid sun.

COLORADO CITY IS BOOMING

More Tourists in Town Than Ever Before, and Industrial Life Is Active.

The reputation of Colorado City as a business place has always been high among the towns of the state, and the present year has far surpassed all previous seasons in this respect. As an industrial center the city is one of the best in Colorado, and in addition to this, the tourist business this season has been far in advance of past seasons. Every hotel and boarding house in the city is well filled, and there is not a desirable house for rent in the entire city. The mercantile business has been much better this season than for years past, and the advent of new manufacturing plants has increased the total pay roll of the plants in that vicinity by many thousands of dollars.

In addition to the several large reduction mills, most of the employes of which live in Colorado City, there are several new plants now doing business in the manufacturing line, and wages to workingmen are at a premium. All the available labor of the district is readily employed, and there is absolutely no idle men in search of employment. The real estate interests never brighter, and there has been a great increase in the value of real property within the last few months.

For a city of its size there is probably more money in daily circulation in Colorado City than in any other town in the state, and with the opening up of new enterprises now under way the commercial life will receive a further stimulus. One of the new enterprises is the proposition to work the vast gypsum beds of the district immediately surrounding the city, and when the arrangements now pending are brought to completion the new plants will employ over 100 skilled workmen besides many laborers, at the highest going wages. This will increase the monthly pay roll [illegible] thousand dollars.

As a tourist center Colorado City is increasing in popularity, and there are more visitors resident in the town this season than ever. Its proximity to many of the best features of the region is largely responsible for this, and the splendid accommodations at reasonable rates that can be secured are appealing to out-of-town visitors.

SILVER BALL TO KILL WITCH

Insane Man Threatens Woman Whom He Imagined Was a Sorceress.

Is Arrested by Police.

John Strube, who claims to be an ex-policeman of St. Louis, was arrested in Colorado City yesterday morning on the charge of insanity, and with threatening to kill a woman, whom he said had bewitched him and was causing him to lose his sight.

Strube arrived in Colorado City about six weeks ago, and since that time has caused the police department more or less trouble. He went to the police office several days ago and asked Police Chief James R. Gregory to arrest a woman living on Seventh street, claiming that she had bewitched him and wanted to ruin his life. He claimed that the woman was in love with him, but, as he would not reciprocate, she had decided to make his life miserable. When told by the chief that the woman could not be arrested on such a charge he said that he would kill her as soon as possible. He was not arrested at the time, as the chief did not believe that the man would carry out his threat. However, it was learned yesterday that Strube had a revolver and was trying to find a silver bullet, as he said a common lead bullet would not hurt a witch. He was at once arrested and will be brought before the insane commission in Colorado Springs.

BEASLEY WINS SUITS

Former Editor of Argus Secures Judgment in Court.

The two civil suits brought by M. C. Beasley for the last six months editor of the Colorado City Argus, against J. O. Chase for $99, for wages due as editor of the Argus, and against Mrs. J. O. Chase for $60 commission on property sold by Beasley for Mrs. Chase, were decided by Justice J. D. Faulkner yesterday morning in favor of the plaintiff for the full amounts sued for.

Several months ago Beasley took charge of the Argus printing office for Chase. Beasley claimed that Chase owed him $99 for work done as editor and refused to pay him. Furthermore he claimed that Chase took charge of the Argus office after he had received a writ of attachment. Beasley turned the keys over to Constable O. E. Kimsey and Chase at once went to the office and put a large padlock on the door which was at once removed by Kimsey. Beasley also sold several lots for Mrs. Chase for which he was to receive a commission. He claims that after the transaction had been made that Mrs. Chase refused to pay him the commission. It is understood that both cases will be appealed to the district court.

COLORADO CITY NEWS NOTES.

Percy Torrey, editor of the Colorado City Tribune, yesterday morning crushed his thumb and first finger on the cog wheel of a cylinder press. Torrey was oiling the cogs when [illegible] put his hand on the wheel. It will be several weeks before he will be able to return to work.

WIFE ELOPES; BILLS ARE LEFT

C. C. Bloomfield Loses Spouse and Creditors of Cog Road Restaurant Lose Money.

C. C. Bloomfield, former proprietor of the Cog Road restaurant, is minus his wife and F. C. Fuller and Mrs. Bloomfield have left for parts unknown, about $500 richer than when the former arrived here several months ago, their gain in wealth being at the expense of the creditors of the Cog Road restaurant.

The eloping couple left Manitou some time Saturday night and their departure was not discovered until Sunday morning when the cook, F. N. Linn, arrived at the restaurant in time to get breakfast. Neither the Bloomfields or Fuller came to breakfast and when Linn went to their rooms, he discovered that the occupants had seemingly left in a hurry. Articles of wearing apparel were scattered about the rooms and everything was in disorder. A little later he received word from Bloomfield stating that Fuller had eloped with Mrs. Bloomfield and that he was on their track and would return to Manitou as soon as he had found them and recovered the stolen money. No word has been received since that time and Linn has decided that the eloping parties and also Mr. Bloomfield will never be seen in Manitou again.

Monday morning Linn secured a writ of attachment on the stock of goods which Bloomfield left at the restaurant as he had $150 due him in wages. Since that time several bills have been presented for payment and it has been found that at least $700 is due creditors. The heaviest losers are: The Manitou and Pike's Peak railway, $200; D. E. Nebergall, meat market of Colorado City, $205; F. N. Linn, cook, $150; J. A. Foote, Colorado City, $25; H. Berger, cigar company, $16; and several smaller bills which will bring the amount owing in Manitou, Colorado City and Colorado Springs close to $1,000.

MANITOU NEWS NOTES.

J. E. and C. H. Shover, who are connected with the D. & R. G. railroad, are guests at the Cliff House for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. McLendon of Waco, Tex., are registered at the Mansion for the rest of the summer. McLendon is a banker, a grocer and owner of the Metropole hotel in Waco.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Goldstein of Carthage, Mo., who are spending their ninth season at the Hotel Navajo, celebrated their [illegible] wedding anniversary at the hotel Tuesday. They received several gifts from their many friends.

The regular weekly dance at the Cliff House will be held this evening, commencing at 9 o'clock and lasting until 12 o'clock. Manager Nichols has issued a large number of special invitations and a pleasant time is assured to all who attend.

The weekly social hop at the Manitou tomorrow evening will be in the nature of a masquerade. All the guests will be attired in fantastic costumes, and several surprises have been planned by Manager Boswell. Dancing will commence at 8:30 o'clock, lasting until 11 o'clock.

An exhibition of oil paintings of local scenery by M. Van Cise and R. Smiley is being given at the Glenartney cottage, on Manitou avenue, across from the Mansions hotel. The collection contains a large number of excellent paintings.

The following are the latest arrivals at the Sunny Side hotel: Miss Mary Jones, Kansas City; Miss Pearle Board, Covington, Ind.; Mr. and Mrs. William W. Wheeler and daughter, Marceline, Mo.; Mrs. James Holloway and daughter, Ruby, and son, Glen W., of Gibbon, Neb.

There was a crowded house at the Hotel Navajo Tuesday evening at the regular weekly hop. The dance was preceded by an hour's dance for the children of the hotel and several invited guests from the other hotels and the city. At 9 o'clock the children were invited to the Navajo cottage, where they listened to a phonograph concert as the guests of Mrs. C. A. Tollen.

The following are the latest arrivals at the Navajo: J. M. Wells, Mrs. Lynch, Mrs. Canell, Fort Worth, Tex.; Mrs. W. T. Flournoy, Miss Ethna Flournoy, Independence, Mo.; W. C. A BRITON ON THE FOURTH OF JULY

Herbert W. Horwill in the Nineteenth Century.

It would be an impertinence on the part of an English writer, after exhortations to the amendment of the prevailing custom. It is for Americans themselves to judge how their patriotic feeling may find most suitable expression, and an Englishman is least of all entitled to remonstrate, inasmuch as it is a British reverse that is thus commemorated. The propriety of their taking vengeance on their own people in the Twentieth century for their victories over British forces in the eighteenth, is not open to foreign criticism.

Pro Bono Publico

Inherent in every man is that quality which makes him good at some one thing. By study, practice, perchance intuition, or as some might call it, happy chance, he first grasped the idea of personal excellence and developing along that line of thought and action has arisen above his associates and becomes a leader.

Exception will not be taken to the above as a premise, and if true of glittering generalities it of necessity must be true of the individual, and of art and science.

The application of this thought to the members of the medical profession becomes to the laity a question of vital importance.

While not questioning the ability, skill and patient perseverance of the general practitioner, it is now universally the accepted opinion in the minds of both the laymen and the profession, that the specialist in any one line is more apt to be better qualified and equipped, and certainly more experienced in his chosen field than is the competitor in the general practice. Men choose a specialty because of some inborn or inwrought aptitude for that particular line of work and their harmonious thought and innate predelection for it. Hence, they excel therein, for one must of necessity be in harmony with his work and it be along the line of his best ambition and desire.

A careful study for the past nine years of the resident profession leads us to believe that we can be of service to them and of immense service to the general public; particularly such members as may need medical or surgical treatment, by recommending to every sufferer, the one of all who will render the best service in treating his particular ailment.

To illustrate: We know one physician who, while fairly successful in practice as a whole, towers head and shoulders above his medical brethren in his ability to cure constipation, obtaining natural, daily movements of the bowels after the second day, and without the use of drugs.

Again, we know another physician who, while modest to a fault in his great ability, meets quickly and successfully any kind of rheumatism by very simple means.

Again, we know still another physician who has developed a system of treatment for consumption and its multiplicity of complications, which is truly wonderful, securing phenomenal results.

Free Treatment Until Cured---Only Pay Asked Is Your Testimonial

We desire the true merits of this idea known to everybody, and we do not know any better way of introducing it than offering the services of our co-operating staff of physicians free until cured for all those who call before August 22nd.

Many of you who have been taking indifferent treatment for months will be absolutely cured in a few treatments properly applied—true chronic cases will require somewhat longer time, but it makes no difference, you will be treated free until you can say "I am cured."

In accepting the position of diagnostician, and in furtherance of this idea I have withdrawn from the practice of both medicine and surgery, and am devoting my entire time to diagnosis and assignment of cases as above set forth.

DR. DUNN, Diagnostician

Mid-summer Kiln of Van Briggle Just Out

Something over one hundred of the finest examples of Van Briggle pottery from the New Kiln go on exhibition and sale at Hardy's Art Store, 6 South Tejon street today.

The new lot contains many choice vases in small sizes at moderate prices, suitable for souvenirs of Colorado.

The only high art ware made in the west is Van Briggle Pottery made in Colorado Springs.

It is a gold medal ware of the St. Louis World's fair, of the Portland exposition, and of the recent Arts and Craft's exhibition of Boston.

Many art critics pronounce it the finest art pottery made in America; in any event it ranks with the best art wares made.

Between five and six hundred pieces are now on exhibition at Hardy's, the exclusive local art shop for the ware.

HORSESHOERS TO PICNIC

Will Be at the Zoo on Saturday for Big Outing.

The Zoo park will be the scene of the annual picnic of the Master Horseshoers Protective association next Saturday. Representatives from every town and city in Colorado are expected and it is believed that several hundred members of the organization will attend. The program for the occasion includes sports of all kinds, and it is probable that State President Ted Ford of Denver will deliver an address. Mr. Ford, as well as many of the other state officers, have announced their intention of attending the picnic. In the evening a big basket dinner will be served.

Nature Tells You

As Many a Colorado Springs Reader Knows Too Well.

When the kidneys are sick
Nature tells you all about it,
The urine is nature's calendar.
Infrequent or too frequent action;
Any urinary trouble tells of kidney ills.

Doan's Kidney Pills cure all kidney ills.

Colorado Springs people testify to this.

Mrs. Laura Ellsworth, 1314 Lincoln avenue, Colorado Springs, Colo., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills are undoubtedly the best kidney medicine I ever used. The kidney trouble in my case was one of long standing. I suffered greatly from pains through my back and loins and an inflammation of the bladder. The kidney secretions were very scanty at times, while at others they would be much too frequent, causing me great annoyance. My daughter procured a box of Doan's Kidney Pills for me at the D. Y. Butcher Drug Co., and from the wonderful relief received from their use, I feel that I can well recommend Doan's Kidney Pills to others suffering from similar troubles."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name Doan's and take no other.

NOVEL DRESSMAKING.

A novel way of mending a woolen or silk dress in which a round hole has been torn, and where only a patch could remedy matters, is the following: The frayed portions around the tear should be smoothed carefully and a piece of the material, moistened with thin mucilage, placed under the hole. A heavy weight should be put upon it until it is dry, when it is possible to discover the mended place only by careful observation.

WILL STOP SHIPMENTS

REBUILDING OF GOLDEN CYCLE MILL AWAITED.

Monthly Tonnage From Cripple Creek District Will Be Curtailed Many Thousand Tons.

Special to the Gazette.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Aug. 14.—Word has been received here to the effect that it will probably be January 1, 1908 before the Golden Cycle mill will be in running order and able to treat the big tonnage of ore which it has under contract with the 25 odd mines of the Cripple Creek district. It is further stated that the Golden Cycle management intends to increase the tonnage from 800 daily to 1,000 tons, and that during the interim of reconstruction contracts will be made with other mining companies, which have heretofore been shipping to other plants.

While a good many of the mining companies could, if the managements desired, easily find plants to treat their ore, there are a number who will undoubtedly stop shipments until the Golden Cycle mill can handle their ore, and devote the four months to development work. The two principal mines that will likely do dead work and make no attempt to ship, will be the Golden Cycle mine, which has a capacity of about 5,000 tons per month, and the Findley, which gets out approximately 2,500 tons per month. There will be a few others, but the monthly tonnage will not be curtailed, it is believed, to exceed 10,000 tons per month for the next four months. However, while this shortage in ore will appear during 1907, the mines will be in shape to ship considerably more ore during the early months of 1908 and as the Golden Cycle mill can handle 200 tons daily in excess of the tonnage before the fire, it is expected that 1908 will loom up with an exceptionally large tonnage.

INDEPENDENCE CLOSED

MINERS LAID OFF TILL MILL IS COMPLETED.

No Work Will Be Done in Mine on Company Account Until Smelting Plant is Built.

Special to the Gazette.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Aug. 14.—The work on the new $100,000 cyanide mill of the Stratton's Independence, Limited, is being pushed as rapidly as possible. Already over 2,000 sacks of cement have been used in the construction of the foundation work. The management of the company on Saturday night laid off all men employed in the mine on company account to the number of about 40. No work will likely be done in the mine on company account until the mill nears completion, which will hardly be before next January, if that soon. The new plant will have a capacity of 6,000 tons per month and the buildings are now being erected so that it will be a very simple matter to nearly double the tonnage if it is deemed desirable. The dumps of the Stratton's Independence contains hundreds of thousands of tons and it is stated that there is practically an inexhaustable supply of low grade ore in the mine, much of it having already been blocked out and lots of it that can easily be mined. There are now some ten or a dozen sets of lessees working in the big mine and from 1,500 to 2,000 tons of ore a month are being shipped to the valley mills.

The Isabella cyanide mill has proven to be an eminent success in every particular and it is believed that the Stratton plant will be able to duplicate the results of the Isabella plant only on a larger scale.

TEMONI GOOD PRODUCER

D. O. Darnell Is Making Good Money Out of Gold Hill Property.

Special to the Gazette.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Aug. 14. D. O. Darnell, operating on the Temoni property on Gold hill, is shipping from five to seven cars of ore a month from his lease and the ore is giving average returns very close to $50 in gold to the ton. Ore is being mined from a short tunnel as well as from a winze that has been sunk from the tunnel level. Work in the winze is confined to the 100-foot level, where a good sized ore body has been exposed. This is one of the best producing small leases now being operated in the camp, and Mr. Darnell is making good money.

FOREST QUEEN IMPROVEMENT

New Air Compressor Has Been Ordered for the Mine.

Special to the Gazette.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Aug. 14.—A new air compressor has been ordered and will be installed as soon as it arrives at the Forest Queen on Ironclad hill, which is under lease to Roach and company, of Chicago, Ill. This mine is shipping from twelve to eighteen cars of ore a month, the average value being very close to $35. Occasionally a carload of ore is sent out that carries values of from three to five ounces. Work is being done on the bottom level, where a good strong vein has been uncovered, but the values at the present time are lacking. However, good ore is being mined and snipped from the upper workings. With the new air compressor there will be a great deal of dead work done as well as a larger tonnage maintained.

STOCK MARKET ACTIVE

HEAVY LOSSES RECORDED UNDER LIQUIDATION ORDERS.

Days Developments Distinctly Unfavorable—Trading Is Sensational Near the Close.

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—Trading in the stock market today was active and sensational toward the close, when heavy losses were registered under a flood of liquidation orders. The day's developments were for the most part distinctly unfavorable, embracing as they did announcement of receivership proceedings against a very prominent New England manufacturing concern, whose embarrassment was brought about by lack of working capital. Sentiment was also adversely affected by the failure of the treasury department to take action to relieve the money market.

The market held moderately firm in the early session, but in the final hour under a succession of concerted bear attacks together with enforced liquidation, prices broke from 2 to 5 points in almost all the active issues, while many of the specialties fell with greater violence. In fact, the market was for a time absolutely without support and stocks were unloaded with apparent disregard for values.

The closing was extremely active and with a slight rally resulting from a covering of short contracts. The level recorded at the end of the day was the lowest in many instances for six years. In fact, not a few issues sold as low as in the memorable panic of May, 1901.

The day's business aggregated almost 1,000,000 shares. Some of the day's extreme declines include Amalgamated Copper, 5; Union Pacific preferred, 7; Union Pacific, 5½; American Smelting, 6½; Reading, 6; Great Northern preferred, 6½; Delaware and Hudson, 9; Brooklyn Transit, 5; New York Central, 4½; St. Paul, 4½; Canadian Pacific, 6½. In the special stocks the losses were even greater, extending to points in Third Avenue. The entire traction group was very weak. On a single transaction, Wells Fargo stock broke 20 points, and other so-called investment issues suffered heavily. Conditions in the money market were nominally unchanged. In reality, all time accommodations were stiffer, practically few of prime loans being made at less than 5 per cent. It was reported that a prominent corporation had sold a block of the year loans on an 8 per cent basis.

The bond market was weak in sympathy with the movement in stocks. Total sales, par value, were $1,812,000. United States government bonds were unchanged.

WHEAT MARKET STRONG

BRISK DEMAND FROM EXPORTERS RESPONSIBLE.

Active Buying by Commission Houses and Shorts Causes Firm Market. Corn and Oats Up.

CHICAGO, Aug. 14.—Firm cables and a brisk demand from exporters for American wheat caused strength today in the local wheat market, the September delivery closing at a net gain of ¼c. Corn was up ⅝c. Oats were ⅞@1c higher. Provisions were a shade to 2½c lower.

The wheat market was firm all day on active buying by shorts and commission houses. Indications that foreigners have bought considerably in flour during the last few days is chiefly responsible for the bullish tone. The market lost some firmness later in the day on an increase of 1,243,000 bushels in the world's visible supply; the failure of a large manufacturing concern was also a depressing effect. The market closed steady. September opened unchanged to ⅛c higher, at 84⅞c to 85⅛c, advanced to 85⅞ and closed at 85½c. Primary receipts were 905,000 bushels, against 922,000 bushels for the same day last year. Clearances of wheat and flour were not available because of the strike. Chicago receipts of wheat were 250 cars.

The corn market was firm because of reports of damage to the Kansas crop by heat. September opened unchanged to ⅛c higher, advanced to 68⅞ and closed at 68½c. Local receipts were 205 cars, with 19 of contract grade.

Oats were in urgent demand all day, and the market closed strong, at 44⅞c. Local receipts were 193 cars.

Provisions were dull and sagging. At the close September lock was off 2½c, at $16.67½, lard was unchanged, at $9.00, ribs were off 2½c, at $8.67½.

OUR "CONNIE" LEADS IN TOGS

From the Sketch, London.

The Duchess of Marlborough might well claim to be the best dressed woman of those wearers of the strawberry leaves distinguished for good taste. As Miss Consuelo Vanderbilt she was often [illegible] great French artist, when painting her portrait as a girl, made use of this charming resemblance to the eighteenth century beauties immortalized by the most graceful painter of his day. The duchess' tall, svelte figure lends itself admirably to the various vagaries of fashion, and her dark hair, flawless complexion and small features enable her to wear many brilliant tints and much magnificent lace and embroidery which would overwhelm a less striking looking woman. At the wedding of Lord Guernsey and Miss Gladys Fellowes, the duchess wore a wonderful flame colored chiffon frock embroidered in the same tint and one of the large black picture hats which she was one of the first to make popular. This was fastened with ruby headed pins. Her grace possesses many wonderful jewels, including historic French pieces. Her favorite gems are pearls.

CIGAR SIGN LURES LAKE SAILORS

From the Chicago Tribune.

An electric cigar sign is running in opposition to a Chicago harbor light. So deceiving is the big white beam flashing over the waters that boats have headed in shore at Thirty-ninth street, near which the sign does business, and where they expected an open channel, have narrowly escaped wrecking. To avert such a catastrophe, a warning has been issued from the hydrographic office at Washington.

The advertising sign is a white light, while the breakwater light flashes alternately red and white. The smoky condition of the atmosphere is said to have caused the confusion.

[illegible] to be 2[illegible] yards off, pb. 1,500, cedar 800, chestnut 600, ivy 450 and elm 325.

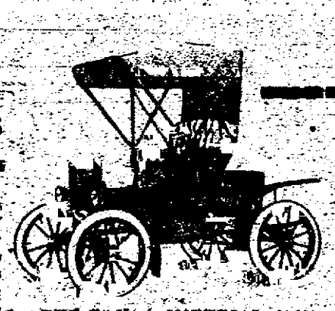
Baker Electrics



THE BAKER IMPERIAL, $1,200.

As a refinement of all that is laudable in the construction of Electric Vehicles the Baker for 1907 stands pre eminent. These wonderfully beautiful models fairly captivated the immense throngs attendant at both of the great automobile shows.

In every detail of construction—in every material part these carriages are—admittedly—the highest form of Electric Vehicle achievement. In chaste and dignified designs, combining elegance with a proper regard for conventionality—in variety of models—in wealth of new and exclusive features, the Baker has more than maintained its rightful title, "The Aristocrat of Motordom."

THE QUEEN VICTORIA

is rich and dignified in appearance. A more perfect carriage for town use has never been conceived. The Queen Victoria Body is interchangeable with the Runabout or Enclosed Coupe Body. The Chassis is the same and the change from one style of body to the other is affected with little effort, in a few moment's time.
